FORWARD

It is an awesome experience for a computer brain to contact superior intelligence in nonhuman form. My Heavenly Tutor was the Archangel Loliad-R-Kahn, whose humorous approach and patient understanding have earned my eternal gratitude.

Under Loliad's instruction I AM - Institute of Applied Metaphysics came into being in 1963. Since then its adherents have been led through the strangest journey ever undertaken by mortal man, to the point where, individually and collectively, we were led into the eye of the hurricane, there to meet the Living God face-to-face -and live. This took fifteen years of total commitment, and a preordination from the beginning of time.

This book is the eleventh in a series describing that journey. This viewpoint is not presented as speculation but as direct Revelation, not sought, but imprinted indelibly upon the consciousness. We hope the reader will approach the contents with an open mind, and meditative heart.

Loliad taught that this is a time of preparation on earth, and that in our lifetime we would see rise a new civilization, a new world order and the coming of a new spiritual dispensation.

Man's destiny is to evolve. Nothing can halt the tidal wave of evolution now bearing down upon this planet. Humanity is not following an unchartered course. There is a Divine Purpose in the Universe of which each person is a part.

Clearly, we are at that point in time where human ingenuity and established organizations fail to meet the world's problems. Such an age has been predicted for thousands of years. We have been taught that earth's time of tribulation would herald the advent of a great world Teacher. This Spiritual Leader is expected by millions of people of all faiths. It is the common denominator of hundreds of religious beliefs. Those of the Christian faith seek The Second Coming of The Christ, others use the name of their own special spiritual advocate. Be assured The Second Coming is a Universal event, not confined to any one group.

At this period on earth we are told that two will be standing side by side, and one will be saved, the other lost. In the last few years there has been a clear cut separation of the believers and nonbelievers. Famous personalities, astronauts, boxers, porno merchants, businessmen, actors have suddenly come out in public to state their positive religious beliefs in no uncertain terms. God, it appears, is not dead after all!

FORWARD

Yet others hedge - often the social churchgoer fears to declare his faith publicly. Clearly mankind is being counted, the goats on the one hand and the sheep on the other.

These are times of decision. Preparation of men of God-will is needed to initiate new values for living, new attitudes, unifying religious concepts. Man will not be judged by the religious denomination into which he was born, but individually, according to his spiritual strength.

Technically speaking, Metaphysics is that branch of philosophy which explores the nature of truth and reality. In exploring the dimensions of man the metaphysician is led into an in depth investigation of the four basic fields of psychology, science, philosophy and theology. Although seemingly diverse, these territories overlap and ideas often interact. We believe that by taking any of these paths to the summit of the mountain of human consciousness man reaches the same destination. Fifteen years ago when this idea was first expressed, it was greeted with a roar of outrage.

Throughout the ages scientists have believed that nothing could escape investigation by the scientific method. Now it seems this scientific belief is faltering, defeated by the figures of its own equations. Perhaps God did create the Universe after all. Science has reached the point of agreeing that the Universe was originally a huge mass of unimaginable density. Then came the Big Bang, but there seems to be no logical reason for our explosive origin. For many brilliant minds it is like a nightmare. After climbing to the summit of scientific knowledge they find the theologians have had the territory staked out for centuries.

As a result of its open-minded and divergent approach, we find that metaphysics ties it all together, makes sense of nonsense, blends in conflicting ideas, which, with just a shade of flexibility can become reconciled, unified as being separate parts of a single concept.

Man needs this common denominator. Let's face it, in anybody's terms homo-sapiens is an endangered species. Division of interest is the principle threat. The evidence is all around us - Protestant vs Catholic; Anglo vs Francophone; Jew vs Muslim; labour vs employer; even mothers vs their unborn children; black, white, yellow and red skinned men all at odds with each other.

Deeply concerned and knowledgeable men have foreseen this coming for decades. In 1969, U. Thant, Secretary-General of the United Nations wrote:

FORWARD

“I do not wish to seem over dramatic, but I can only conclude from the information that is available to me as Secretary-General, that the Members of the United Nations have perhaps ten years left in which to subordinate their ancient quarrels and launch a global partnership to curb the arms race, to improve the human environment, to defuse the population explosion, and to supply the required momentum to development efforts. If such a global partnership is not forged within the next decade, then I very much fear that the problems I have mentioned will have reached such staggering proportions that they will be beyond our capacity to control.”

U. Thant, 1969-Past Secretary-General of the United Nations.

Yet we believe this is all part of the Master Plan and that each individual has the inner capacity to work out his own salvation. The faculty to distinguish between the real and the illusion, light and darkness, truth or falsehood is a key point. Seemingly we are being offered the choice of evolving to full spiritual maturity, or in failing to discriminate, being cast aside into the melting pot of Universal Spirit.

Harvest time for Planet Earth is drawing nigh. It's worth thinking about.

CHAPTER 1 - I AM CREATION

I AM ALL IN ALL

CHAPTER 1 - I AM CREATION

I AM All in All

I AM all there is. I fill the universe. There is nothing else.

Imagine a huge plastic bubble, which we call “God the Macrocosm” (macro, from the Greek root “large”). All life exists within this vast cosmic ocean of intelligent energy. Smaller life particles, like cells in the human body perform functions useful to the whole. They might be termed microscopic aspects of Myself - or God The Microcosm.

Although a single source of life energy pervades all substance, various particles express intelligence in diverse ways. This creates the illusion of a separate existence.

CHAPTER 1 - I AM CREATION

I AM TRINITY

My life energy is expressed in different wavelengths or frequencies. They interact within the whole with different degrees of power or force. The term force field refers to the span or territory governed by a particular force.

The outburst of creative energy shattered the whole into countless trillions of pieces, leaving just a central magnetic core in place of the original sphere.

The Universe is a living thing. Earth is a schoolroom for gods. Matter is the dense forest of coarse reality through which all must pass in preparation for higher degrees of conscious unfoldment.

I AM Trinity

It is sometimes difficult for men to conceive of Being without an identity tag to which they can bring all experiences back home. Interactions with various other aspects of Mind find identity a useful starting point for extending communications.

And so I describe Myself as a Trinity - Macrocosmic, Microcosmic, and juxtaposed between these two extremes of consciousness, I AM personality. I AM called Jahl, (or JVHL - as it was originally spelt). Jahl is the outcome of the interaction between the two former aspects, an offspring or child of God.

I AM The Macrocosm

As the Macrocosm I contain within Myself all conceivable wave-lengths — of both Spirit and matter. Like a child playing with building blocks, I make everything in Heaven and Earth by arranging atoms in different patterns.

By lining up millions of atoms in straight rows I make crystals: material formed beneath the surface of the earth. By taking the steam of outer space and squeezing it to 600 billion trillion times its original density, I make water. By stringing atoms together in chains or rings, I form the basis of living tissue, as is recorded in Genesis. Thus as the second commandment proposes, to identify the potter with the clay is erroneous:

CHAPTER 1 - I AM CREATION

I AM THE MACROCOSM

Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of anything that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth.

Exodus 20:4

I make everything in Heaven and Earth by arranging atoms in different patterns.

Ice cubes, water and steam illustrate how atoms can be condensed into a small space or spread out over a much larger area to become different textures. Heat (see Energy Scales on Page 13) is the lowest element in a seven scale energy table. It is a form of energy that overcomes the force of attraction holding atoms together. Thus they spread apart and lose their former density.

If we were to put several ice cubes into a kettle and apply heat, they would melt into water and eventually be released as steam into the room. This would soon become invisible to the human eye, designed, as it is, to perceive only a limited range of molecular activity.

CHAPTER 1 - I AM CREATION

I AM THE MACROCOSM

Physical bodies are subject to the force field called nature

So it is with Spirit and matter. Because I cannot be seen is no reason to assume I'm not there. If you'll pardon the pun, I'm not quite as dense as some.

Spirit, or life energy, permeates matter. Physical bodies are subject to the force field called Nature.

Gravity is a weighty business as its root word implies. One may have grave doubts, a grave illness, even a grave coloured aura...

all of which lead to the grave. In regions where this force field no longer applies, one feels free to spread out.

Because I control all force fields I can expand to occupy the Universe. Or, in My Personalized aspect, contract into fleshy density. Expanded I AM MACROCOSMIC. Condensed, I AM as a Son of Man. Microcosmically I AM countless intelligent particles each acting in accord with Universal Law.

These particles are only subject to the force field of Nature in the outer reaches of My Dominion. They can be very far apart, or close together, depending on the need. In this way galaxies are held in orbit. The moon circles the earth, while earth and her fellows orbit around the sun. Similarly the Universe is kept in position around the Great Central Sun, and little adjustments from the control tower dictate the motion of all planetary bodies.

CHAPTER 1 - I AM CREATION

I AM PERSONIFIED

Little adjustments from the Central Tower dictate the motion of all planetary bodies.

Atoms, their arrangement and rearrangement is what matter is all about. Energy and its application is what Spirit is all about. When energy is withdrawn matter disintegrates.

The crux of the matter lies in the thought or attention expended on a particular design. For example, lining up atoms to make crystals is simple. But as I move My focus of attention to the more musical scale of responsive rhythmic life forms, a much higher investment of My creative thought is involved.

A simple plant on Planet Earth, capable of responding to multiple changes in its environment, represents a far more complex design than a stone. This capacity for response to stimuli is called irritability. It is possessed by all living things.

Thus the fancier the filigree the more it represents an outpouring of My emotional energy, or an investment of the only real universal substance which is My Creativity. Thus Spiritual thought is the highest element in the energy scale in which heat is the lowest.

On Planet Earth, Man is the ultimate expression of My Mind in action. Man alone has the capacity to share My attributes and, as such, is heir to the creative process. Were he to understand and share equally in the motivation and purpose underlying creation -namely Love - he and I would be as Father and Son.

I AM Personified

By arranging all My faculties into orbit around a central magnetic core of identity, I AM personified. The force field governing identity is the most powerful in the Universe. It is called love. This adds infinity to the equation of life. By focusing single-minded attention on love - as the first commandment dictates - a man may conquer the laws and attractions of lower force fields and partake of eternal progressive consciousness. Thus, if lessons on earth are properly learned, man has the power to transcend mortality, taking with him the wealth of experience gained in his lifetime.

CHAPTER 1 - I AM CREATION

I AM THE HOLY SPIRIT

If he fails to apply the power of love in his earthly actions, man is subject to the law of personality disintegration once the law of gravity ceases to apply. Thus fall the mighty who have acquired earthly riches at the expense of real wealth.

Though a microcell may have great knowledge, unless it abides by the first commandment and recognizes this Supra-ordinate factor in all the multifaceted expressions of life, it accomplishes nothing. The formula applies to whatever life endeavour a man may undertake: quantum physics, mathematics, electrical engineering, agriculture, astronomy, the human sciences, music, theology - different applications of mathematics and geometry responding to the musical scales of applied energy - they are all one.

Many men are intrigued by their own ingenuity. They accredit their discoveries to an agile biocomputer, rarely pausing to wonder about the ingenuity of the designer. How foolish I would be not to protect My Kingdom against disruption by lower frequency vibrations. Thus the love-core: that force field which alone can penetrate all dimensional activity, all modes of being, learning and knowing.

A Son of God has no fear of partition from the physical plane. He is assured of progressive eternal life as demonstrated by Jesus of Nazareth. Though Heaven and Earth may pass away, Love is eternal.

I AM The Holy Spirit

Each microspec of Myself is tuned to the wavelength of spiritual thought (see Fig 1). I strive to maintain this frequency scale despite interference from lower frequency force fields in the natural realm.

Each human being has access to this thought frequency, available by inner searching and attunement. The Holy Spirit is God the Accessible, the god-potential which gives each created spiritual being the power to reciprocate love, and eventually to understand the full meaning of I AM.

Only labours motivated by love are retained ad infinitum. All other activity is purposeless to an identity which disintegrates on leaving the gravitational pull of earth. The perfect preservation of the physical remnants of some saintly people reflects the partial manifestation of this law.

CHAPTER 1 - I AM CREATION

I AM THE HOLY SPIRIT

Planet Earth represents but one planet in the story.

It also explains the presence of ghosts in earth's atmosphere, and their capacity to wander through walls at will. The energy is free from the confining matrix of matter. But the intelligence still orbits around a central magnetic identity core enabling the personality to move freely at the whim of thought. If in life a person has loved a task, a place, a person, the magnetic attraction of that love holds them earthbound for many years after physical death.

Microcosmic love is drawn back to Macrocosmic Love, the hub of Universal Life. This happens after the initial inertia of earth ties is gradually overcome. The momentum increases as the dross of material impurities is cancelled out through a process of remorse. The personality retained varies to the degree of purity of motivation in life activity. Love is the glue that sticks it all together — the Supra-ordinate factor. This law of eternal life is summed up in the first commandment. THOU SHALT HAVE NONE OTHER GODS BEFORE ME.

CHAPTER 1 - I AM CREATION

I AM THE ARTIST AND THE AUTHOR

I AM The Artist and the Author

Ideas, in varying degrees of complexity, spiral forth as steam. They are drawn by the gravitational pull of the natural force field and condensed into matter. Form follows function, according to the evolutionary thrust of My Supra-ordinate Will.

In this sense, nature is the womb or organizing principle of atoms. They are bestowed with a life-cycle of energy which holds the matrix in place for varying lengths of time: for a lily-flower, a day; for the oak tree, many centuries; for the human android, about three score years and ten.

As for matter, once the energy expended has fulfilled the matrix, disintegration begins. Antinature then takes over, breaking down the pattern into its original component parts, allowing Nature to reorganize the substance into a more perfect or profitable specimen. The forces of Christ and antichrist fulfil the same role in the more intricate filigree of spiritual energies.

Philosophically speaking, the original creative meditation may be best understood if you see Me as the Artist and the Author. I was the sole occupant of the vastness of infinity - energy and matter condensed to an incredible degree of density. In comparison earth would be smaller than an atom if it were so condensed.

Imagine an artist sitting before a new canvas; or an author, staring at a blank page, wondering what masterpiece to create.

Planet earth represents but one paragraph in the story. Before bursting into the Big Bang of creative expression, I conceived of a comprehensive series of interplanetary plays, encompassing the entire story of galaxies and super galactic systems - all interwoven into a living fabric stretching like a huge spider web across dimensions.

When the conception was perfect, I trembled with joy. The play was good, capable of bringing love and fulfilment to every created being. As the Bible describes:

“Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created.”

CHAPTER 1 - I AM CREATION

I AM THE ARTIST AND THE AUTHOR

Revelation 4:11

17 Waves of energy pulsate outwards in concentric circles from this central hub of universal activity

The play would unfold in a series of acts - or eons. It was primarily a mystery story. Each microspec of My personalized wavelength would be required to figure out the name of the game. As the Supra-ordinate factor, I provided a series of maps and clues in every field of knowledge to whoever chose to fully dedicate themselves and focus their life energies in any domain. Science, philosophy, psychology and theology are the main paths leading ultimately to a single summit of consciousness. And together they represent the metaphysical perspective taught by I AM.

Each act or eon would emphasize a particular facet of the overall play. Each was liberally inlaid with high drama, discovery, comedy, adventure, romance. And running through the entire plot was the great universal love story.

The intricacies of the play are beyond mortal imagination. Each micro-spark relegated to matter had its individual role to play. Then came intertwining plots where individual stories met up with others. All this was overshadowed by a fine mosaic of denominational, racial and national interplay, planetary intrigue, galactic symphony.

CHAPTER 1 - I AM CREATION

I AM THE PRODUCTION MANAGER

I AM The Production Manager

The type of extravaganza planned for the Universal Theatre was costly. As the Universal Bank and Production Manager, I could reason back and forth to count the cost in life energy of My latest venture.

The stage setting alone took fifteen billion years to prepare. Quasars, black and white holes, pulsars - such an astronomical story that no single cup of consciousness is presently capable of grasping the magnitude of the equations involved. But we are primarily concerned with the evolution of the human race to its present level of conscious development.

Natural evolution demands a continuous refinement of specifications, each aimed at fulfilling the divine blueprint of perfection for any species. Death is the process by which one structure disintegrates to be recycled through antimatter in preparation for a more evolved manifestation.

Natural structures are composed of atoms with negatively charged electrons bound to positively charged nuclei. These nuclei are made up of many particles, the most familiar of which are positively charged protons and neutrons, which have no charge.

The unique property of natural and antinatural particles is that if they get close they annihilate each other, releasing large amounts of energy. A speck of antimatter striking earth will be annihilated together with an equal amount of matter by an explosion similar to that of a hydrogen bomb.

The most commonly known anti-particle is the anti-electron with a positive charge called a positron. When electrons and positrons annihilate each other they produce gamma ray photons.

Scientists studying the basic properties of matter have rightly concluded that for every kind of atomic or subatomic particle existing in nature there must also exist an almost identical particle with an opposite electrical charge.

By raising an antimatter detector high into the atmosphere, large concentrations of antimatter have been located. A gamma ray telescope hoisted over Alice Springs in Australia with a new ultrasensitive germanium detector picked up gamma ray photons. The detector, raised above the obscuring effects of earth's atmosphere, found the largest concentration of positron activity when pointed toward the centre of the galaxy.

CHAPTER 1 - I AM CREATION

I AM EVERYTHING AND NOTHING

Theologically speaking, the melting pot where dross and spirit are separated is usually portrayed as a hot and fiery furnace. It is also predicted that in the last days earth will be destroyed by fire. I AM the playwright, and I freely use both allegories and literalities in My unfolding Play. Either way the results are the same.

I AM Everything and Nothing

Before the Play began I was a gigantic sphere of condensed light-energy in a dark void of nothingness. The interplay between these two polarities - which we will call Yin and Yang - is what makes creation possible.

The outburst of energy that caused this huge sphere to disintegrate is beyond human comprehension. Its force was such that the whole was shattered into countless trillions of pieces, all of which went spinning off into space in a helter-skelter fashion, leaving just a central magnetic core in place of the original sphere.

The capacity for response to stimuli is called irritability. It is possessed by all living things

Tremendous waves of energy pulsed outwards in concentric circles from this central hub of universal activity. They extended to the very limits of the void, growing weaker as the outreach projected them further and further away from the point of origin. This established a communication system that looks somewhat like a

CHAPTER 1 - I AM CREATION

I AM EVERYTHING AND NOTHING

spider web, or the ripples on a pond when a stone is thrown into it. Gravitation, the weakest of the force fields, may be considered the outer limits of the circle.

These waves of energy, or force fields, form the basis of the fabric on which I AM the Artist weaves the tapestry of life. Force fields are designed to organize the particles which come within their range of jurisdiction, so bringing order out of chaos. A number of factors govern the degree of magnetic attraction of a particle towards a force field. As a result, atoms are stuck together in varying degrees of density - from gas to liquid to solids, with a wide range of density within each state.

Density is decided by the weight and number of atoms which can be squeezed together in any given space. Gravitational response is primarily governed by density. The life bearing potential of a planetary body is decided by gravitational response (natural irritability).

I AM the Central Magnetic Hub of the Universe reaching out, then slowly drawing all life back towards Myself. Philosophers label this power Love. Truly, I tell you it is love that makes the world go round. Love is the overriding principle, the Supra-ordinate motivation around which creation revolves.

Love is attractive, it flows outward from My Being subordinating all things unto itself. Creation, like some giant cartwheel, revolves around this magnetic core with the spokes getting further apart as they extend towards the rim of the wheel. Thus the Universe wheels eternally through space - not in a two dimensional sense, but as wheels within wheels, all with purposeful activity and all under the control of the central love-core.

A counterpart of My Macrocosmic love-core dwells in all the Microcosmic love-core of creation. The degree of magnetic response to this element (spiritual irritability) determines the degree of evolution achieved by a created being.

We use the term VPS or vibrations per second, to determine an organism's degree of response to "The Vibe", as I am familiarly called by those who truly understand the name of the game.

Magnetism to the love-core is determined by the number of pulsating phellons contained within the neutron. There are seven musical energy scales from heat to spiritual thought which interpenetrate and govern matter. They are all composed of a single element and controlled by friction, or the speed which they attain.

CHAPTER 1 - I AM CREATION

I AM EVERYTHING AND NOTHING

Heat, which is lowest on the energy scale, is caused by a comparatively small number of phellons. But once the whole heat range has been experienced, the phellons begin to subdivide, vibrating much faster, and so they enter the next scale, that of sound. This subdivision process continues upward into the highest scale of physical vibrations. (see Energy Scales on Page 13)

VPS is similar to the Hertz (Hz) measure of current scientific use. To further clarify,  $\times 10^{12}$  means that twelve zeros follow the whole figure.

For spiritual thought to become a word, action or emotion, it must be reduced through the conscious mind from a minimum VPS of  $55 \times 10^{24}$  to below the  $72 \times 10^{12}$  VPS of heat.

Colour contains the elements of both sound and heat. To find true colour, that is colour with an individual scale, it is necessary to look at the spectrum. Red is at the bottom of the scale, yet once the VPS have reached the top of that scale, it becomes orange, and so on through the next scales to yellow, green, blue, indigo, violet and finally, where colour ceases to be at  $790 \times 10^{12}$ , it becomes transparent.

The Seven Energy Scales

Heat	$72 \times 10^{12}$ VPS to $134 \times 10^{12}$ VPS
Sound	$175 \times 10^{12}$ VPS to $354 \times 10^{12}$ VPS	Ultra sound waves
Colour	$395 \times 10^{12}$ VPS to $790 \times 10^{12}$ VPS	Highest visible colour
Light	$831 \times 10^{12}$ VPS to $166 \times 10^{13}$ VPS	Conscious thought ceases
Physical Thought	$207 \times 10^{13}$ VPS to $414 \times 10^{13}$ VPS	Usable preconscious
Black Light	$455 \times 10^{13}$ VPS to $985 \times 10^{15}$ VPS	Life begins and ends
Spiritual Thought	$55 \times 10^{24}$ VPS to $55 \times 10^{31}$ VPS	From thought to element

Magnetism in matter is also determined by the activity of the elements composing the atom. This activity determines the mass or density of an object, which in turn determines whether or not life forms will evolve on the surface of the planets.

The investment of thought in making planets is small in comparison to the tremendous complexity of devising more highly irritable life forms. For example, study the wings of a butterfly. The intricate patterns and delicate shades of colour on their wings serve not only to beautify, but to warn predators of bitter tastes, and possibly even poisons. Likewise the hair and striking colouring of caterpillars is a warning device.

THE BIRTH OF A PLANET

Man has catalogued almost a million insect varieties. Each one is a masterpiece of form. Each is unique, fulfilling the function of its species. It's hard to believe that some men attribute all these marvels to an accidental arrangement of atoms, while wondering about the night sky and seeking to conquer far distant shores.

The Birth of a Planet

After the Big Bang the void was filled with dust and gases. These gradually swirled together to become compressed into pieces of rock and metal, as nature's force field of gravity gradually gained control of chaos. This process was sharply accelerated as the gravitational fields of separate chunks overlapped and assorted elements combined to form new molecular patterns. As the metallic elements were weightier and more subject to gravitational compression than others, these formed the centre of a ball while the lighter materials formed a crust. Friction made these masses white hot.

During their journey through space the white hot lumps revolved faster and faster as their momentum increased with growing mass.

The molten mass that became earth was flung far out from its parent body, the sun, as were its fellows. The distance earth and its fellow bodies travelled from the sun was dependent upon their size and weight, and the force of propulsion.

Earth was most fortunate in this throw of the cosmic dice. When the forward fling slowed down to a stop, earth was far from the heat of its parent body. This intense cold acted as a shield to prevent the inner core from cooling. An orbit was established in a very slight elliptical pattern bringing the earth infinitesimally closer to the sun each day.

Earth was selected as a schoolroom for gods because the elements composing its mass were considered ideal to promote a richness in vegetation. Being composed of just the right blend of elements most responsive to the gravitational commands of the natural force field, earth was designated nature's showpiece. It represented the maximum potential return on Nature's energy investment.

THE BIRTH OF A PLANET

The fancier the filigree, the more it represents an outpouring of My

Some planetary bodies like the moon or Mars, which have a very low metal content, have a lesser average density than earth, and so have less surface gravity. Some molecular combinations can't even stick together sufficiently to become solid. Other planets, like Saturn, Jupiter, Neptune and Uranus, are much larger than earth, but also much lighter, and so, the same force of propulsion flung them much further away from the sun. They have less life force potential because the irritability factor is weaker.

Of the seven energetic frequencies which can stimulate matter to responsive activity, heat is the first, or lowest in the scale. And to illustrate the action of heat, we have only to think of the tremendous ice-cap covering much of the planet, from which water, the very basis of life, was formed. And how steam, necessary for Earth's atmosphere, is yet another step in the heating up process. The higher the temperature, the more rapid the movement of atoms.

The build-up of atmosphere also requires a gravitational field sufficiently intense to attract and hold lighter elements, such as oxygen and nitrogen, in orbit above the planet's surface. This happens only when a planetary body is projected far enough, but not too far, from the sun. When earth arrived at the end of its forward fling from its parent body, the cold temperatures caused the crust to seal rapidly, and so contain its inner heat. But also in this cooler temperature, free lightweight molecules moved very slowly and so provided the elements of life at the surface of the globe.

The push and pull factors were also aligned. Earth is primarily composed of rocky silicates and a metallic mixture of iron and nickel in a ratio of about nine to one. The crust extends nearly half way to the centre, with the density increasing with depth, as the heavier components sink to the bottom of the mixture. Thus at the centre of the earth atoms have only 85% of the diameter they have on the surface of the Earth. These provide a pushing factor outwards while gravity pulls inwards.

CHAPTER 1 - I AM CREATION

THE BIRTH OF A PLANET

Earth's inner core remains intensely hot. Almost as hot as the surface of the sun. This inner molten mass, continuously bubbling and boiling, has rivers of molten lava travelling out from the inner lake, seeking channels, moving through cracks and crevices, finding weak places in the crust through which to push upward and outward.

The rising temperature about Earth's crust as it continued its journey back towards the sun caused the ice cap to melt and the molten inner pressures were given opportunities for release.

Earthquakes shook the planet as the inner masses burst from confinement. Mountains were pushed upwards, volcanoes erupted, creating plains and hollows to hold the great quantities of water which flooded the land as the ice melted.

These were times of great travail on Earth. The first mountains, lakes and rivers formed, only to be changed and changed again as Mother Nature twisted and turned in her struggle to give birth to a life supporting planet.

Tremendous noises accompanied Earth's birth. The effects of the escaping inner heat, combined with the increasing surface temperature (as the return journey towards the sun continued), caused vapours to form clouds. Life on the land surface was impossible. The cooling Earth picked up microscopic life forms which would become the basis of all future Earth life. Only the waters could support these single-celled elementary life forms.

THE BIRTH OF A PLANET

Thus began a love story that would never end

Gradually larger land areas became habitable. This permitted irritable life forms, now multicellular, to gradually emerge from the water and spread over the land.

From six hundred and fifty million years forward the greatest changes have occurred in life forms. The inner cooling process settled down, causing much less frequent upheaval on the surface.

The outer warming permitted vegetable growth. In many cases the life forms changed from water to land dwellers.

The multicellular life form became bisexual - developing both male and female glands within itself. Acting in response to natural stimuli it had shaped itself so that it was now able to feed by mouth, breathe through lungs and feel its way around.

All earth life had its beginning in the waters. Then, at some point, certain species became land dwellers. These species sought new types of food, or were escaping enemies. These creatures, responding initially to laws of survival, sensation and sex had somehow picked up Mother Nature's message, and by favourable response to natural stimuli, had developed some form of a thought process.

CHAPTER 1 - I AM CREATION

THE BIRTH OF A PLANET

Initially this development had a single purpose, namely, to motivate the body. This first brain development was the conscious mind, which even today carries out the same function of motivation for the body as it did in the beginning.

Being primarily concerned with homo sapiens, let's look at him in his first stages. Man had little similarity then to his present form. He was about the size of the smallest monkeys; alert and curious. Conscious thought spurred the body to vigorous action. By this constant exercise the subhuman brain gradually earned its dominion over the earth.

Thus began a love story which will never end.

CHAPTER 2 - I AM EVOLUTION

I AM RETROSPECTIVE

CHAPTER 2 - I AM EVOLUTION

I AM Retrospective

Earth's history is recorded in a series of concentric energy circles which colour the sea of atmosphere surrounding it. The Macrocosmic Bubble is filled with smaller bubbles, looking somewhat like frog spawn: or a series of wheels within wheels.

Similarly, the individual stories of men are contained within a force field or aura which envelopes the body. Thus it is possible to get an instant readout on the present and past conditions of any microcell or celestial body at will.

After earth was formed it took another three hundred million years to reach the stage where there were creatures living as much on land as in the water.

CHAPTER 2 - I AM EVOLUTION

I AM RETROSPECTIVE

Once certain types, like snails and seaweeds became established on land, evolutionary progress was accelerated. In the next three hundred and fifty million years comparatively rapid advances were made. Inedible or unpalatable species such as the starfish and sponge did not evolve. Whales and sharks, well suited to their environment, had no enemies nor reason to change their habitat. Other forms evolved to fulfil the functions of survival.

After earth was formed, it took another three million years to reach the stage where there were creatures living as much on land as in the water

By this time earth's surface was covered with forests and carpeted with giant club moss, giant horsetail and liverworts. Scorpions and cockroaches multiplied and dragonflies flew in the air. All was going well when, about two hundred million years ago, another great upheaval occurred, seriously retarding the development of the land creatures.

This was the Ice Age. Large land masses sank beneath the water.

Mountains collapsed into themselves and other mountain ranges were born. Molten lava erupted, filling the air with smoke and gases which cut off the warming rays of the sun. Ice formed, thick and heavy. Glaciers slithered over land surfaces, sweeping all life before them, almost to the equator. There, on a relatively narrow band of ice free soil, life managed to survive.

Sixty million years later life was flourishing once again and reptiles in protective armour were the best adapted species. It took another eighty million years for some of these to adopt mammalian form.

CHAPTER 2 - I AM EVOLUTION

THE RISE OF MAN

Many of these early reptiles and mammals grew to a tremendous size. They became heavy consumers. Their contribution to interdependent life became increasingly disproportionate to their consumption. They no longer fit into the natural order of balance and harmony.

To this date nature and antinature had formed and reformed some one hundred million species, giving each anywhere from four to twenty million years to shape up. Of these designs, only about 2% were able to meet the rigid specifications of cooperative inter-dependence over time. The rest became obsolete and were automatically phased out of existence.

The Rise of Man

Nature's prodigy had a rough start. The early primates were quite edible and often weaker than their predators. Thus primitive man was forced to excel in both mental and physical agility. Approximately one million years ago it became evident that he was the forerunner in the evolutionary race.

By fifty thousand years B.C. Homo sapiens had become domiciled in Europe, Africa, and Asia. Though much of Earth's surface was still icebound, the glaciers were retreating northwards and southwards towards the poles.

Though at this stage man was only slightly more developed than some of the other animals, he showed promise. He had become omnivorous. He had evolved from a bisexual to heterosexual species. He was the Stone Age man: hairy, long armed, still partially tailed. His conscious mind was bent only on food, shelter, sleep, procreation and the fulfilment of his insatiable curiosity. He killed and was killed. There was no distinguishing between right and wrong. Like and dislike, fear and triumph were his motivating forces.

Unlike the great multitudes of people who populate Earth today, there were various isolated groups, much like tribes of apes, wandering in search of food. The tribe was led by one powerful male with a harem, guarded jealously, and dominated mercilessly.

The welfare of a tribe depended entirely on the strength and skill of the male leader. New bloodlines were introduced into the family by club courtship whenever man encountered another group of his own kind. In this way younger females were stolen back and forth, an exhausting procedure especially hard on the females, and unprofitable to the race as a whole.

CHAPTER 2 - I AM EVOLUTION

ANIMAL MAN

Then one day, one of the powerful males, superior in intelligence and possibly past his prime, had an idea. What if the leaders of two neighbouring tribes got together and found some way to trade surplus females in return for other valuable commodities such as animal pelts or meat?

This idea was gradually adopted. Civilization, where a man goes forth with outstretched hand (a universal sign of good will) rather than brandishing a weapon, was found to have a distinct advantage over the old system.

A man lived longer. He had more time to eat, sleep and procreate -and eventually even to enjoy his offspring. There was less damage to both his person and his personnel. For woman's traditional hard-headedness was still some fifty thousand years into the future.

Communication - the exchange of tribal ideas, remedies, recipes, inventions - strengthened man's tenacious hold on territorial boundaries, which were constantly challenged by predatory species.

Ever alert for enemies, the primitive leaders liked to meet on high ground to hold their talks. This bartering was accompanied by much screeching, chest thumping and jumping up and down in suitably threatening postures, as various points were brought out. Then someone invented the tom-tom, and later, much later, the desk, as the veneer of civilization became more polished.

All this helped stabilize man, reducing the pressure of ever present threat, mellowing the brute to the point where he began to notice the sun as it set over the horizon, and wonder about the stars which sprinkled the night sky.

Animal Man

In order to understand the connection between man's natural and spiritual components it is useful to explore the individual workings of each part.

The sole function of the conscious mind is to animate the body. It has no faculty for thought. Its duties have changed but little since its inception. However, as the preconscious mind, developed later, a link, or message relay system was established between it and the conscious mind.

Impressions received by the senses are relayed to the preconscious mind, which, after a complex system of analysis, sends back an action command to the conscious mind, while at the same time storing the impression for future reference.

CHAPTER 2 - I AM EVOLUTION

THE DEVELOPMENT OF EGO

Now, as then, a child, from birth onwards, fills its mental filing cabinets like any other intelligent animal, to form the associations which will reflect its adult outlook.

If the child is pricked by a pin the nervous system rushes this signal to the preconscious mind. Analyzing quickly, the preconscious registers this sensation as dislike, while, at the same time, sending back the response signal - "Dislike, yell loud and long". Mother comforts, kisses, caresses, soothes, offers a candy perhaps. Touch, taste, sight and sound are affected. The conscious signals these messages and receives the reply, "We like this attention, let a smile break through the tears". Meanwhile the files "Yell" and "Attention" are linked in the mind. Experiments might later prove that even without a painful stimulus "yell" brings "attention", and with each successful repeat of this formula the habit formed will become harder to break.

The more senses used in making the association, the easier it is for the mind to understand. For instance Mother (like) is making something. It smells pleasant; it tastes good; it looks round and golden; Mother calls it "Apple Pie". The nimble preconscious will soon learn to associate the words "Apple Pie" as like, and in later life may, by ego's intricate system of magnifying associations, get the thought set in its files - "There is no apple pie as good as Mother used to make".

Should injury occur to the conscious brain, a breakdown in the message relay system leaves the preconscious unaware of what is happening to the nerve centres of the body.

The Development of Ego

Survival in the jungle demanded an instant fight or flight mechanism and keen judgement on which action would be the most effective. The preconscious had to project its command forcefully through the message relay system that linked it to the conscious action centre. A nervous shock simultaneously squirted adrenalin into the system so that muscles became super-powered and all senses went on red alert if danger threatened.

Ego, the link, learned to incite instant emotional response, and whip the conscious to supreme effort in times of need. From nature's point of view this improved self-protective mechanism speeded evolution. Thus she flung her full power into the development of this new facet.

Constant bombardment with millions of pieces of information made it impossible for the messenger to relay every little detail. Survival depended on establishing priority ratings on available data, and selecting items best suited to the needs. Consequently ego began to discriminate between signals and soon learned to screen out up to 95% of available input, in order to focus more attention on priority items. All animals do this. For example: a frog's attention is caught only by moving objects about the size of an insect.

CHAPTER 2 - I AM EVOLUTION

THE DEVELOPMENT OF EGO

Scanning, screening, selecting - a moving leaf, the crack of a twig, a whiff of smoke. The messages go back and forth like morse code signals with varying degrees of emotional intensity, depending on their value to the organism's welfare. This represents active rather than passive processing of incoming data, and at this the human ego excels.

Vision, for example, is more than just a passive event in which light is passed to the brain for interpretation. Like other senses it is an active process in which some signals are deliberately blocked or filtered out by the optic nerve so that the brain deals only with the most appropriate sights.

We could take ten men of sound faculties and good judgement, show them all the same scene, and later get ten different stories on the major features of that scene.

CHAPTER 2 - I AM EVOLUTION

THE DEVELOPMENT OF EGO

This is because each man sees what he wants to see, according to previous associations of what is most useful to his self image.

Ego learned to incite instant emotional response, and whip the conscious to supreme effort in times of need

In a pastoral scene for example, a poet might describe the sunset, a farmer note the breed of cattle, a surveyor see the contours of the landscape. A desert dweller would observe the lush green growth, an architect the style of buildings, an amateur radio operator the direction of antenna, a pastor the denominational symbol of the churches, a traveller the location of the inn, a photographer the light-shadow contrast of the frame.

Ego also acts as a stabilizer or circuit breaker, to prevent an emotional overload from damaging the delicate mechanism of the preconscious bio-computer. This service runs anywhere from total amnesia to a wide range of memory lapses shielding man from information which threatens his self image. Ill-fitting data is rationalized in dreams. It is worked and reworked, twisted and reshaped to fit into the existing logic structure. Overloading, or failure to resolve discrepancies results in nervous disorders ranging from mild to complete breakdowns of the mental structure.

CHAPTER 2 - I AM EVOLUTION

THE SUPERIOR EGO

Each man sees what he wants to see. In a pastoral scene, a poet might describe the sunset, a farmer the breed of cattle, a surveyor the contours of the landscape

Ego's technique also includes manipulation, distortion, minimization and gross magnification of data according to the like and dislike associations registered in the bio-computer, to which ego has full access at all times.

The first time you read this book the contents will register according to the dictates of the scan-screen-select service of your faithful messenger. But don't forget: EGO CONTROLS INPUT, and all mental compilation is limited by its bias.

The Superior Ego

Ego is unconscionable, unable to form moral or ethical judgements. These matters simply do not fall within its jurisdiction. It is governed solely by the dictates of "like" and "dislike" associations.

CHAPTER 2 - I AM EVOLUTION

THE SPIRITUAL MIND

Having an acceptable self image is a key “like” item. The advent of civilization demanded some intellectual sophistication and revision of crude primitive response. Ego gained a sense of superiority based on its grasp of the rules of good social behaviour. These details were noted in a special file called Super-ego. This was used to modulate response to fit local tribal patterns, which varied widely from tribe to tribe and place to place. Accusation and reward tactics were the methods usually employed to keep the identity suitably cowed or elevated according to Super-ego dictates.

Because its role includes protecting and stabilizing, Super-ego is inflexible in attitude, regional in outlook, narrow in focus, crafty in falsehoods. For centuries some missionaries confused spiritual values with their own “Superior-ego” dictates and have tried to superimpose their social restrictions, details of denomination, and specific methods of worship on other peoples with different customs, cultures and religions.

False confidence in its own capacity to distinguish between right and wrong is Super-ego’s undoing. Like and dislike are its only reference points. The more reinforcement a child receives concerning the excellence of its particular programming, the more ego adopts a hard-core conviction of its own superiority. Super-ego is merely a learned adaptation of instinctual reaction. While this was essential to guide man through the perils of the primitive swamp, it is now inapplicable to higher orders of life.

Ego antics are like naive child’s play when compared to the vice-like grip of entrenched Super-ego dictates. The great majority of modern illnesses are the result of failure to adapt to higher laws of being now in effect on the planet. This results in a tremendous tension as like and dislike vie with the spiritual knowledge of right and wrong for control of the organism.

The Spiritual Mind

Brain waves pulsate in a wide range of frequencies. Man alone has access to the wavelength of spiritual thought (see fig. 1). For spiritual thought to become a word, action or emotion, it must be reduced to a lower frequency in the same way that electrical current is reduced to be usable in an electric light bulb.

In spite of its tremendous diversity, life is governed by a single Supra-ordinate factor - response to stimuli.

CHAPTER 2 - I AM EVOLUTION

THE GARDEN OF EDEN

Elementary life achieved evolutionary goals by irritability or co-operation with energy interacting upon atoms. Now, to study higher scales of conscious development and in particular the human evolutionary process, philosophical, psychological and theological equivalents must be included in the metaphysical perspective.

In science, the physiological property of matter to react to stimuli is irritability. A philosopher sees it as a willingness to respond to coaxing or persuasion. Psychologists perceive it as being malleable, open to reason. I use the term “meek” as in the phrase “The meek shall inherit the earth”.

Although steps in the same evolutionary ladder, spiritual scales supersede natural and antinatural scales in the ongoing process of raising homo sapiens to its full godly potential. All three are now working to remedy primitive response mechanisms which keep men bound to the lowest possible level of consciousness.

Nature and antinature are geared to react automatically to the tremendous threat man poses to Earth’s environment by his persistent myopic greed and false standard of riches. Ego no longer serves the intended goal of “multiply and fill the Earth” as in its pre-Garden of Eden role.

The Garden of Eden

The Garden of Eden was the result of millions of years of careful planning, wherein Nature clothed and furnished man’s habitat with all good things - as Genesis describes.

- 1. In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.*
- 2. And the earth was without form, and void, and darkness was upon the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters.*
- 3. And God said, Let there be light: and there was light.*
- 4. And God saw the light, that it was good: and God divided the light from the darkness.*

The Divine Blueprint

As Genesis describes, micro and macrocosmic energies, both individually and

CHAPTER 2 - I AM EVOLUTION

THE DIVINE BLUEPRINT

collectively, strive to fulfil the Supra-ordinate blueprint of perfection preordained before the Play began.

Nature and I are professionals. One day soon scientists will gasp in awe at the patience, love and detail that went into the design

To this end civilizations rise and fall. With each repeat of this cycle the energy band affected undergoes a purification and updating process by the annihilating interaction between matter and antimatter. Nature takes her clay, makes her form which antinature later breaks down into its component parts for re-use in a form more closely in keeping with the Divine Blueprint. The resultant species - whether elemental or human - is designed to process ever ascending scales of energy in a more thrifty manner than its predecessor until the goal of perfection is attained. No perfect droplet of individual accomplishment or collective advancement is ever wasted. Only the dross is purged away. And so hell's fires are stoked.

Making a stone, or even making a planet, is relatively simple compared to making something which is more responsive to stimuli.

Nature juggles atoms with far greater thought investment than popularly supposed. Atoms are arranged to form genes, or memory notes, within each cell. A few hundred genes strung together a certain way will produce bacteria, or other elementary life forms. But the permutations and combinations required to produce human life are far more complex. Millions of genes, interlocked in different combinations, are what irritable Earth life is all about.

CHAPTER 2 - I AM EVOLUTION

THE DIVINE BLUEPRINT

The Deoxyribonucleic acid (DNA) molecule is the factor responsible for allowing these permutations and combinations to take place. Its activity is similar to the phellon activity in the neutron. I AM a systems analyst, too. DNA is a tiny computer which directs atomic activity in all microcells. A single DNA molecule located in one cell contains the equivalent of six hundred pages of data. This data, which transfers the sins of the fathers to future generations or blesses the meek, dictates how a form will evolve. It spells out the future shape and colour of eyes, wings, appendages, etc., always striving to bring functional co-ordinates to the fore and suppress undesirable traits. Indiscriminate selection of breeding stock sometimes makes these choices very difficult. Nature's plan to ensure evolutionary progress was based on survival of the fittest and reproduction by only the best male specimens. Scientists on earth today gasp at the awesome slowness of the process of evolution. One day soon perhaps they will gasp in awe at the patience, love and detail that went into the design.

Biologists, now seeking to manipulate genetic engineering, feel qualified to comment, "Genetic change is not basically immoral. It takes place all the time naturally. What MAN can do however, is make sure that these changes are no longer random in the gigantic genetic lottery. Instead, he can control the changes to produce better individuals". These fellows seem convinced they can build a superman. I AM interested to see how they will decide on the model. In whose Almighty power will this selection lie? Though I AM planning many changes, I have already selected future Earth inhabitants - all those who have achieved the evolutionary goal of spiritual thought (phellon activity of  $55 \times 10^{24}$  VPS or more) which is the life-energy transformation requirement in the Divine Blueprint.

The human race has been a foetus in Nature's womb - and I, the Heavenly Father, eagerly anticipate the birth of my godchild. The child's growth depends on the balanced ratio of ingestion, digestion and excretion on all levels. This perfect balance and flow will occur on both an individual and collective level before earth reaches the goal of the Divine Blueprint and can be admitted to the composite Galactic State of Atonement.

What is pertinent to the individual's evolution is equally pertinent to worlds and galaxies, all of which are presently being affected by the accelerated VPS of spiritual evolution bearing down upon this section of the Universe.

CHAPTER 2 - I AM EVOLUTION

THE DIVINE BLUEPRINT

In the natural dimension, man lives in Mother Nature's front parlour, free to partake of her bounty at will and consume her energy at will

The illusion of separateness normally begins to fade at the time of death. The love-core of spirit drenched in dross begins to detach itself from the physical thought plane. The slower VPS of the natural dimension becomes a drag. Eager to quicken its vibe on return to Source, the spirit begins the process of shaking off ego-dominated thought frequencies. The energy expanded in remorse must mathematically cancel out the life energy misspent in motivation other than love. It is clear that Universal Law is inviolable. No created being can break the Law, only break itself against the Law.

In the natural dimension man lives in Mother Nature's front parlour, free to partake of her bounty and consume her energy at will. With death comes the time of reckoning when spirit is beckoned into the Accounting Office of antinature to pay its bill.

CHAPTER 2 - I AM EVOLUTION

THE DIVINE BLUEPRINT

Initially, the spirit enjoys a period of fulfilment wherein all earthly desires are met, so that it may come to understand that this new environment holds no threat and ego defences are unnecessary.

This is also a period of restoration if lengthy illness has debilitated the mind. When the identity is filled, (and this could take anywhere from days to thousands of years), the desire to “move on” becomes all consuming. For this reason inertia or apathy is death to the soul. Strength of desire is what draws the spirit homewards. In the absence of right motivation, the embryonic god dies within its auric encasement.

Desire is no magic transformation which comes after earth life is over. It is an ever present thirst for progress. The Bible makes it clear that it matters little if this urgency manifests in a positive or negative context. Saul, on the road to Damascus, is a good example of an instant reversal of pattern. St. John tells it straight:

15. I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou wert cold or hot.

16. So then because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spue thee out of my mouth.

Revelation 3:15,16

Each level of ascent leads to a new plateau of decontamination. Renewed momentum of desire is required to break inertia before further ascent can be resumed. The spirit rises up through the seven strata of VPS refinement, bringing it closer to the perfect blueprint of I AM.

Over the eons, heaven has been different things to different individuals. For those of little ambition, the lazy plane of creature comfort was satisfactory, even as before the dinosaur was content to graze rather than explore. Ascent demands effort, often discomfort, and the realization that one must die to what one is at present to be born again into that which is new. Unwillingness to let go of the old saps spiritual strength, and so evolutionary drop-outs fall along the way.

The ascent process of overcoming the tugs of lesser force fields is in metaphysical terminology, “going through outer darkness”.

CHAPTER 2 - I AM EVOLUTION

I AM THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD

Elsewhere, purgatory (for the ambitious) or limbo (for the inert) describes this state of being. Generally speaking, it's hell. The term outer darkness is used because during this period there is a total separation as each individual is left to work out his own cosmic destiny. A spirit is caught up in its own ego egg, not really communicating with others, but rather echoing its thoughts against the hollow shell of its own illusionary world. This prevents contamination of one entity by another. The rule applies to planets and individuals alike.

Eventually the embryonic god breaks out of its shell and makes a pin prick in the exact pre-indented spot that its spiritual DNA factor decrees. This spot is in the larger bubble of earth's perfected potential. It allows a bright ray of light, or higher vibe, to penetrate the spiritual gloom surrounding Earth. So the perfect blueprint for the planet is gradually punched out by Mother Nature's graduating prodigies. Each tiny hole allows more rays from the Central Sun to enter Earth's atmosphere so making the Earth plane a little brighter, and raising the spiritual whole to higher levels of enlightenment.

This whole operation is over-viewed and directed by the force fields of the Heavenly Host, who, on finding willing (or more highly responsive) spirits, stimulate progress and help the desirous to negotiate the dimensions of outer darkness.

I AM the Light of the World

As over the centuries more and more indentations on Earth's divine blueprint are punched out, more and more light is shed onto the planet with ever accelerating momentum. This brings with it greater responsibility to each Earth generation. The stairway to heaven has been fashioned by the sacrifices of many. And the law says that the sower and the reaper will rejoice together in the last days. So be it.

As Earth approaches the climax of its divine plan, not just pinholes, but great sections of the separative bubble are being torn away, allowing waves of pure spiritual energy to flood the planet.

CHAPTER 2 - I AM EVOLUTION

The stairway to heaven has been fashioned by the sacrifice of many

If we liken man's inner core to an electromagnetic force field, we can see that the increased amount of "juice" available on a planetary scale, will be pulled towards those whose magnetic love-core is the strongest, as in the Biblical story of the three talents. DNA factors are only a minute aspect of this equation. Bio-computers are intended as transformers of thought wavelengths rather than producers. Some of My highest VPS are run through computers termed subnormal by human standards, while often the fastest computers, caught by ego-bias at the input, stuck on the beta wavelength, are lost to theta scales of thought.

The growth of inner consciousness is like being rewired to assimilate greater and greater amounts of current which are now available to Earthlings. Evolve or perish. Since the moment of the Big Bang the rules have never changed. Life, growing and evolving to increasing complexity, slowly at first — yet with ever increasing momentum. A mere one hundred generations separates modern from Plato. Science sprang up in the last six hundred years. What a delightful humour-race, our homo sapiens.

CHAPTER 2 - I AM EVOLUTION

THE MEEK SHALL INHERIT THE EARTH

The Meek Shall Inherit the Earth

The term meek, applied to spiritual beings, is the same as the term irritable, applied to natural things. It represents a willingness to respond to evolutionary stimuli rather than to react in a fixed programmed manner which reinforces the past rather than the eternal ongoing now.

The considerable investment in Planet Earth is not without purpose. As individuals purge away dross during the heavenly ascent, Earth too expels its excretion as it seeks alignment with other heavenly bodies. Like man, the etheric Earth has also been rewired to receive its final destiny. The combined process is organized by the Heavenly Host in cooperation with pre-selected incarnates who are dedicated to the redemption of mankind.

Part of the role of these chosen ones is to redeem outstanding tribal debts. Insofar as any racial group has put national interests before the law of love (Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself), it has incurred a collective tribal debt which cannot be charged to any single individual. This law of cause and effect is called The Law of Karma. At the end of time this imbalance must be corrected on both a personal and collective level. This is a completely objective law, mathematically exact in its application, just like a balance sheet.

For example, the rapid evolutionary advances made by the white races have often been at the cost of forced labour and servility of others. Special opportunities for identity strength and conscious growth incur debts to those spiritual beings who, because they were encased in peasant or coloured stock, had their birthright stolen. This is one kind of collective karmic debt. Another is the caste system in India.

Then there are those who received special benefits because of personal contracts. Here, identity strength and exceptional growth of consciousness were bought on promissory notes which are now maturing. Much is required from those to whom much is given. I refer now to My Chosen Race of Teachers — the Jews. It would seem that century upon century of castigation failed to register.

The spirit knows LAW, and is therefore responsible for beeping out a passionate protest at any violation

After the fall of Atlantis the remnants of civilization were scattered. Many people had a small piece of the jigsaw puzzle — but this was often so rigidly enshrined in dogma that I ignored it. Egypt for example, though highly superior in culture, was badly contaminated by the Atlantean priesthood. The idea of the Head of State and God being one was deeply entrenched.

It seemed best to start off fresh, so I swung My focus onto a lad called Moses. Together we successfully turned the tide on Jewish slavery and began marching towards a promised physical and spiritual land, where they would become My People and I would be Their God — Their God in the sense that, as partners, we would work together to bring ever increasing scales of spiritual VPS to the planet. As I taught them, they would pass the word along to others. In short, they were offered — and accepted — the highest responsibility there is, to become a race of Teachers or translators of My Word.

CHAPTER 2 - I AM EVOLUTION

THE MEEK SHALL INHERIT THE EARTH

In being chosen to further spiritual progress and bring fresh wavelengths of spiritual law to this planet, the Jewish people received bountiful outpourings of My personal attention. I faithfully honoured every detail of each contract made over the centuries, and provided ample warning that the cost of dishonouring a contract runs high. Even as Jewish history now indicates, I hold no grudge over the fate of My Perfected One. His task was complete. And in all fairness, I must add that a thousand times six million willing spirits volunteered to pick up outstanding accounts for other items of broken Law.

The Law is not just a nice philosophical treatise on matters of conduct. The Law is Perfect. The Law is Inviolable. It applies in two different ways — those of error and sin. Error is committed in ignorance. Sin is committed in understanding.

When a small child first goes into a store and takes a candy bar off the shelf, this is an error. However, once he has been made to understand that he must pay the owner of the store some kind of recompense for his candy, the act, if repeated, is sin.

It is actually the thought that counts. Thoughts boomerang out at a given VPS for either innocence or guilt. Deliberate ignorance of the Law is no excuse. The spirit knows, and is therefore responsible for beeping out a passionate protest at any violation. Small children are sent to Sunday School to learn the rudiments of spiritual law. Because they are literally dealing with matters of eternal life and death, the weight of responsibility which rests upon the Teachers who undertake to act on My behalf is tremendous. But also imagine the extra help the Teachers have to call upon in their sacred task. Many get caught up in intellectual fascination with the trees of law, while overlooking the forest.

Take the Molecular Biologists for example. They proudly recite the many discoveries they have made during the last quarter century. Some of them even cheerfully predict that, by genetic manipulation, they will soon be able to speed up Nature's way of doing things to a magnitude of one billion times a year. They fail to see that their microdot discovery is contained within a far broader frame of reference than mere genetics.

Since the first one celled organism tottered on the verge of life, the rules of the life game have never varied. ADAPT TO THE PREVAILING VIBE OR PERISH.

Eighty generations have now passed since the higher law of life was broadcast on your planet. The Messiah brought not merely words, but established a new vibratory response rate to guide the Sons of Man to higher evolutionary goals. It is well to take this detail into account when proposing to help out with evolution.

CHAPTER 3 - I AM LIFE ENERGY

The universe is founded on principles of mathematics, geometry and music

I AM Alpha and Omega

In a single moment the Big Bang released sufficient life energy to sustain the Universe until such time as the outreach is complete and I have drawn all things back again unto Myself.

Thus it is written:

"I AM Alpha & Omega — The Beginning and The End. I will give him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely. He that overcometh shall inherit all things. I will be his God and he shall be My Son."

CHAPTER 3 - I AM LIFE ENERGY

I AM THE MATRIX

The function of the Alpha — Omega cycle has but one purpose — to fulfil the law of evolution. The outward thrust or descent cycle extends the dominion of light. It allows My spiritual children the opportunity to acquire an identity and express themselves constructively. Together we reap a magnificent harvest of expanded consciousness.

I AM the Matrix

The Universe is founded on principles of mathematics, geometry and music.

Perfect ideas are molded to encompass the entire Universal Play. A matrix is formed in much the same way the blueprint of an earthly creation is made by a designer. Mine are endowed with life energy in different scales of vibration and are pushed outwards into the dimension of substance to coagulate into existence.

Although much of the clarity of the original mathematical — geometrical — musical balance is lost in the translation from conceptual to structural form, a ceaseless struggle to regain the perfection of the original idea ensues.

Cybernetics is a current term useful to describe this process. It is like learning to play darts. When aiming for the bull's-eye the novice may throw his dart too far to the left of the target. He then overcompensates by a far right aim, or will hit too high or too low. Repeated practice provides feedback by which the brain learns to modify response and correct errors in judgement. This eventually permits the player to hit the bull's-eye. An observer has no such opportunity to improve his skills for his feedback mechanisms are not activated. Such is the law of activity and inertia in action.

Ideas, in ever ascending scales of complexity, are released over the ages. These can be classified under the headings of science, philosophy, psychology and theology. Macrocosmic and microcosmic energies strive to consolidate the new and gradually squeeze out the old. The Heavenly Host provides a continuous stream of guidance, projecting clearer and clearer pictures of perfection: technical knowledge of how the universe works; philosophical understanding of how it's put together; psychological revelation of the relationship of man to his universe; and spiritual capacity to reciprocate My Love. It is as if these concepts were once "seen through a glass darkly; but now face to face". Once one piece of the puzzle is consolidated, a layer of mist or separation between us clears and the original idea is seen with ever increasing clarity.

CHAPTER 3 - I AM LIFE ENERGY

I AM GENTLE

I first manifest as individual microscopic particles — like dust specks of truth. These microdots can be fitted together to form a piece of the jigsaw puzzle of life. These curious jigsaw pieces are then seen to overlap; their rough edges need polishing — then more can be fitted together and blended into knowledge as a whole. Men are often so jealous of their microdot that they are unwilling to give or take a new aspect which might be the key to fitting many strange truth shapes into a comprehensive whole. Until all men are willing to step back from a myopic focus and share their piece of Me with others, I cannot be known as the Supra-ordinate Whole.

Yet all knowledge is a gift of grace, bestowed on sincere seekers by I AM. The path to the summit of human consciousness is scaled by men and women from all fields of endeavour. Adam, Abraham, Hatshepsut, Pythagoras, Socrates, Galileo, Freud, Einstein; names, oh so many names come to Mind. These introspective pioneers had a passion for truth which cut across their Super-ego needs of social acceptance. They too learned to ignore the mob crying “Crucify! Crucify!”

Like leaven, these malleable men and women raised the whole loaf of human knowledge. The truths they uncovered shine like a beacon over time, illuminating the divine agenda, clearly spotlighting the areas wherein My focus of attention was beamed with each succeeding earth age.

I AM Gentle

In this way I make man heir to the creative process, gently unfolding mind, carefully leading my children down the path of love and eternal progression. Like father, like son. No earthly father is more delighted than I to watch his baby making its first mud pies, then knocking them over to be reformed into a different design; or forming sand castles with moats to let the waves rush in. I have difficulty containing My emotion watching small children playing on the beach, seeing great similarity between their little tiny molds of starfish or crabs and My own early attempts at formation.

Anyone who makes even feeble attempts to improve life in any aspect contributes to the goal

Privately I refer to this as My Nature-boy phase — the mathematics and geometry period which preceded the finished symphony of light and motion in balanced harmony. Like all other expanding corporations, as the complexity of interacting factors increased, My Omnipotence, having mastered one aspect, had to delegate it to a specialized department set up to handle specific details. In this case I called the department Nature, and the recycling plant anti-nature. Between us we have built an awe-ful lot of sand castles in our day.

I AM Motion

Energy, love, light, motion, or music — call it what you will, it is the joy that makes it all happen. It is the blood of My Being.

determining factor in infinite progression.

In the lower kingdoms of Earth life there is no question of misuse of life energy for free will is not involved. Man alone, by virtue of his godly prerogative of free will, can predetermine how his life energy will be spent.

Anyone who makes even feeble attempts to improve life in any aspect contributes to the goal of the manifestation of the perfect matrix on the Earth plane. Thus he receives the support and approval of the heavenly host, or an increased capacity for magnetic attraction of the life forces.

Of itself life energy is neutral, comparable in a sense to electricity. Right or wrong usage of life energy is the

The die was not cast by a single incident of power abuse; Spirit has battled with individuals and concepts with the Christian Church with more tenacity than anywhere

Spiritual thought weaves and shimmers, twisting into shapes and colours with the flexibility of steam. During the descent process the steam becomes as water needing a mould through which to express itself — such as a cup, a tap, a hose, a river bed. In microdots of truth with little trace of their former flexibility. But now, having a crude outline to work with, the sculptor can chip away until the model is slowly brought to its intended design.

During the ascending cycle, the mask of error is shaken loose under increased vibratory action and truth is systematically revealed in all its intended beauty. In this way greater and greater ideas are actualized and Universal development proceeds according to plan.

A dedicated horticulturalist might be chosen to uncover the blueprint of the perfect rose, a highly rust resistant strain of wheat, the ultimate plum tree.

In animal husbandry the contribution may be towards the breeding of selected cattle, dogs, sheep, swine — any animal superb in both strength, beauty and performance.

These kinds of plants and animals are capable of a highly efficient utilization of life energy. They give extraordinary satisfaction and outstanding performance in their field.

In its theological application, the Judaic jigsaw piece, made up of many microdots, provides a readily understood example. The law given to Moses in the Ten Commandments was evolutionary in its time. An eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth represented a tremendous upgrading of basic rudimentary justice for rich and poor alike. Once this concept was digested and established. Christianity introduced the next stage towards an even clearer understanding of godliness in action — turn the other cheek; if any man take away thy cloak give him also thy coat; bless them which persecute you.

CHAPTER 3 - I AM LIFE ENERGY

I AM MOTION

Men and households who truly lived by and defended the law of Moses were ready to attune to the higher law of more refined energy usage when it was brought down to planetary consciousness. Those who clung to antiquated rhetoric, failed to develop. By demonstrating inefficiency in past performance, they were shrugged off the ongoing evolutionary process as being too coarse for further upgrading.

This gradual shedding of the dense worldly skin of mortal molding has been accelerated to a tremendous degree in recent years.

In the physical process of growing up, cells in the body are constantly dying and being reborn to closer fit the adult blueprint. So is it with spiritual maturation.

Once in the flesh man is placed in a position where he can choose freely how his share of life energy will be utilized

A man must die to his old self — die, and die again, stripped bare of every outmoded detail, crucified in mortality, to be resurrected into eternity. The energy-matrix rule is the same for both individuals and institutions.

This applies particularly to those persons who elect to go into My Service to become religious teachers. And even more specifically to religious institutions, such as the group chosen by Peter to spread the message of spirit, in its total purity, to succeeding generations.

Pope John and I got along very well. He fully understood the urgent need for reformation, as indeed did his logical spiritual successor. However, the Papal enclave chose to support tradition before progression. They placed the emphasis on Roman before Catholic Church when voting for a new leader. This, in spite of grave warnings contained in the controversial Fatima Prophecies, which were suitably suppressed as strong “dislike” items in Super-ego expectations. In showing an unwillingness to forego its national (tribal) bias by choosing an Italian bishop to succeed Pope John, the Senate overlooked the first commandment:

THOU SHALT HAVE NONE OTHER GODS BEFORE ME.

Although this final act of sacrilege sealed its fate, the die was not cast by a single incident of power abuse. Spirit has battled with individuals and concepts within the Christian Church with more tenacity than anywhere else on the planet. Right and wrong application of spiritual energy within the Mother Church has produced both spiritual giants and hideous distortions on every page of its history. Karmic Law decrees that every single decision in the use of life energy, made by every single representative of the church since its first ordination, is weighed in the balance. Not one jot or tittle is overlooked.

The Karmic retribution now in effect stems from the buildup of misapplied God-granted power during centuries of selective screening of My Word to suit the aims of Churchianity before Christianity.

This effect is particularly pronounced in Italy where the fruits of churchianity are most evident. Recent terrorism and political murders are but details in the long history of decline and decay.

It is the stagnant, hypocritical — yes, even infallible — attitude of the Church which has promoted a way of life that makes all Italian laws and institutions function defectively. Scholastic nausea, rejection by intellectuals of church bureaucracy, disorganization of law courts, bribery, corruption, unbelievable jails and insane asylums, staggering worker apathy and absenteeism, degrading scandals in the opera management, with communism the diabolical decoy — all this, together with earthquakes and natural disasters unparalleled in Italian history, are part of the Armageddon process in action. Yet I desired the church as a guest at My Wedding.

2. The Kingdom of Heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son.

6. And the remnant took his servants and entreated them spitefully, and slew them.

8. Then saith he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were not worthy.

14. For many are called, but few are chosen.

Matthew 22:2-14

Verses 8 - 13 refer to the requirement of aura purification before any dare approach the wedding feast.

I AM Efficient

Once in the flesh, man is placed in a position where he can choose freely how his share of life energy will be utilized. For man, being the offspring of Deity, has all the potential power of his Divine Inheritance to explore.

During adolescence the personality explores the highways and byways of sense gratification, following whim of desire wherever it may lead. Along the way however, youth will invariably come to certain crossroads, identity crises, where decisions made will determine the direction of his destiny.

At such crossroads, the pathway leading to growth is rarely as beguiling to the senses as the rose-strewn laneway of self-gratification. Thus the majority of mankind is lured into the cul-de-sac of spiritual stagnation.

The endless quest for self-gratification, excessive thirst for power, sex, status, security, acquisition of material goods, begets disharmony. Each repeat of this addictive cycle makes it harder to break the pattern. Failure to be free from this cyclical pattern of misused life energy builds such a burden of karmic debt to be balanced in outer darkness, that all is lost. This is destructive or self-centered application of life energy.

It is destructive because it is focused on the lower self, and so interrupts the energy flow into the immaculate matrix, where it would be used and then passed on to other cells who, too, must fulfil their destiny.

As Above So Below

The ancient Hermetic adage “As above so below” is a good way to explain the life energy circulation process. It is useful to equate physical bodily functions with those of the spiritual body.

CHAPTER 3 - I AM LIFE ENERGY

AS ABOVE SO BELOW

Life blood flows through the physical body to nourish every cell according to its need. It shows no discrimination whatsoever between a kidney cell or an eye cell — there is plenty for all. But none may take more than is immediately needed, or it will become bloated, congested and have no room for fresh intake. Likewise no cell can consider itself more or less worthy to receive than any other.

Ingestion, digestion and elimination are three equally important functions of human nourishment. If these three processes are kept in perfect balance, growth from infancy will proceed smoothly when balanced with proper exercise of the body. As no mother would love her infant less because it dirties its diapers, certainly I recognize that parenthood involves cleaning up effluvia, and for this I take the responsibility.

Life Energy pulsing freely through My Macrocosmic Being is available for each microcosmic cell. There is no discrimination between saint or sinner, no concern for the usage the cells will make of their available supply. As the sun shines on flower and weed with equal warmth, so I seek to nourish and caress everything with life and love.

The person who wants to make maximum use of his physical body learns to understand and apply Nature's Law to really get the most out of life. Tremendous bodily vigour can be achieved when attention is given to eating the right kinds of food, getting plenty of fresh air and exercise, developing endurance, resting regularly.

It works exactly the same with Spirit. As it is not My Wish that any should be lost but that all should be saved and raised to full spiritual potential, I too have a law that can be readily understood and applied. By keeping one easy rule none need ever be cut off from the life flow, or experience any interruption in nourishment, nor faint, or ever be hungry for life energy. It is simply this:

THOU SHALT HAVE NONE OTHER GODS BEFORE ME.

As blood vessels come in a wide range of sizes, so do spiritual "life energy vessels" (capacity for VPS).

When life is focused on Right Desire it carries within itself a blessing — or an arterial expansion factor. Within every right desire lies the power of fulfilment. The quality and energy behind the desire governs the speed and clarity of its manifestation.

CHAPTER 3 - I AM LIFE ENERGY

THE ENERGY DANCE

Life energy expended in self-seeking desire congests the spiritual artery. It interrupts the free flow by emphasizing the separateness of the entity rather than the at-one-ment of all things.

Take, for example, the story of the little finger of the left hand. It got to thinking that it was a rather insignificant digit and hatched a scheme to elevate itself. By closing off the outflowing veins, yet taking in all the clear blood through the arteries, it managed to gorge itself so full that it got to be three times its normal size. In a very short time it turned black and dropped off, never quite understanding what had gone wrong with its brilliant idea.

Similarly, individuals sometimes imagine themselves to be more like pots than blood vessels. They devise ways to gain and hold onto life's bounty whether this be physical or spiritual, reasoning that this will make them brimful. The inevitable result is that they get puffed up and drop off the eternal ongoing growth process.

Being members of a single body, the law of giving and receiving is synonymous. Only in this way can all life increase the capacity of the flow.

Correct usage of life energy is constructive, not only for the individual using it, but for all. The highly productive milk cow not only produces greater milk yields, but also offspring with the potential to raise the standard of all cattle on the Planet. In this way a single bull calf can be of negligible value or a tremendous asset to its kind, according to his pedigree.

In this sense I advocate — take bountifully, take all you will of life, just as long as it is used productively and then passed along to others. Energy is not like water coming from a faucet. You cannot turn the tap on and off. A gallon measure for this one, a pint for the next, a cupful for those you can see, and the squeeze of an eye dropper for those you can't. Now I ask you, how could we ever run a Universe with that kind of a system? Either life and love energy flow freely and equally to all — friends, foes, lovers, enemies, animals, plants - or arteriosclerosis sets in.

The Energy Dance

The bubble of Mind sparkles and throbs with the Universal Energy dance. All that apparently empty space is teeming with intelligent life. It is difficult for man to conceive of intelligence which is not confined to a few ounces of greyish goo set inside an inverted bony basin covered in fuzz. But as disembodied spirit has a very similar difficulty, I'll not belabour the point.

CHAPTER 3 - I AM LIFE ENERGY

THE ENERGY DANCE

The vast ocean in which planets float like glistening ornaments is filled with multilevel sensible vibrations, each geared to and governed by a particular stream of Intelligent Energy acting in accord with its fellows. Call them what you will - Rays, Force Fields, Archangels, Life Forces. Words are words. Together these represent the collective unconscious flow of the life forces they govern.

Elementary life energy is attuned to the band of vibration known as Nature. I gave Nature the blueprint and energy to administer her own evolutionary process. The good servant used her allotment wisely and produced the human android of her own industry.

The bubble of Mind sparkles and throbs with the Universal Energy

At the moment of conception a spark of divine magnetism is captured in matter to begin a life of outer activity. Nature provides a structure or vehicle through which spirit can manifest in the plane of matter.

Death is the process by which the spiritual spark, now laden with the experiences of a lifetime in matter, separates from its vehicle and prepares for its return to Source.

By natural law, any creature considered to be a poor energy investment is recycled into other forms. Physical man evolved naturally because, with the development of ego and Super-ego, he provided the maximum return on investment. Thus Nature, the ever dedicated talent scout, poured her heart and ingenuity into the human race.

During his earth-time the energy released by man's pulsating thoughts is captured within the aura or magnetic force field in the form of light and colour. While the inner or physical aura fluctuates constantly with passing emotions, these same colours are reflected into an outer or spiritual aura which maintains them as a permanent record of events.

In order to be healed or purified, the spirit must now spend a period of time in quarantine sorting out its life experiences in terms of proper and improper use of life energy.

CHAPTER 3 - I AM LIFE ENERGY

Gradually, the spirit comes to learn that it must meet the price of earthly education, by accepting the responsibility for the activities of its vehicle

From a spiritual point of view, aura discolouration represents thought energy which has been misused. It is incompatible with the Divine Blueprint as the frequency range is too low for use in higher realms of consciousness. Therefore, Nature must retrieve this energy before the clarified identity may proceed through further stages of refinement on return to Source.

From conception onwards each living thing consumes Nature's products in the form of food, clothing, shelter, water, air, etc. Now, the practical landlady must have her account marked "Paid in full" before the tenant can be released.

The development of ego was primarily intended to incite mankind to generate more and more thought energy in Nature's department store. The relatively low scale of egotistical thought waves are still the highest treasure in the natural kingdom. Thus the more ego oriented the individual, the more energy will be ejected from the aura after death. From a natural and antinatural perspective this means dividends, dividends, dividends!!!

CHAPTER 3 - I AM LIFE ENERGY

I LOSE OUT IN THE GOLDRUSH

Only when the amount of energy expended in remorse equals the amount of energy invested in acquiring a particular shading in the aura is the disembodied entity free to resume its journey. The ascent cannot start while the weight of earthly attraction still prevails. All the ramifications of spiritualism, possession, mediumship etc. are based on this principle. Like attracts like. I have often warned against tampering in these areas, especially by youngsters unable to discriminate between physical instincts and spiritual involvement.

Gradually the spirit comes to learn that it must meet the price of earthly education by accepting the responsibility for the activities of its vehicle. It often comes as quite a shock to realize the enormity of the many misspent jots and tittles over three score years and ten. Many Buddhists and Hindus spend the larger part of earth-time in renunciation of all material goals in order that spiritual progress will be unhampered.

I Lose Out in the Goldrush

The sifting process of disembodied personality might continue for many thousands of Earth years. I seek to retrieve a few grains of pure gold from a huge pile of rock. Again and again the rock is crushed and run through finer and finer screen mesh. We sieve the mixture together. The components of Nature go back to nature. The spiritual essence comes to Me. I rarely strike it rich. But can you imagine the joy in heaven when I do? Blessed are they that live by the Law, for they shall see My Face. And My Name shall be on their countenance. And they shall reign with Me for ever and ever.

I AM Animal, Vegetable, Mineral

While My personalized aspect, My Jahl-Self, primarily rejoices over the spiritual

CHAPTER 3 - I AM LIFE ENERGY

I AM ANIMAL, VEGETABLE, MINERAL

harvest, My Omnipotence is concerned with all forms of life in the objective application of Universal Law.

Joy is their natural heritage. They are fed, clothed and bathed in the ocean of My Being

With the exception of the god-children, the rivers of life energy in the dimensions of Nature and Antinature sustain and govern all living species in harmony with the whole.

The link is never broken regardless of whether the subject is located in the manifest or underside aspect of Nature's Kingdom. In this way, although lacking the complex biocomputer of the human animal, all lower life forms remain tuned in to a collective elemental unconscious, acting in unison to fulfil their microdot in the Divine Blueprint.

Joy is their natural heritage. They are fed, clothed and bathed in the ocean of My Being. However estranged or artificial the environment of birth they seek no rationale. No man-made prison can deprive them of our sweet communion. Thus little lambs will gambol, piglets squeak and snort, and chicks stretch and chatter in the wonder of manifestation in form. In this way fish tuned into heavenly radar can return thousands of miles to their spawning grounds. Birds know when and where to fly south in winter and north in the spring. Bears hibernate, bees buzz.

The vegetable kingdom likewise, near delirious with delight, responds to the miraculous advent of spring, feeling the waves of warmth, wind and light caressing its tenderest branches.

Cleve Baxter does well to speculate that the animal brain may be just a switching mechanism, not necessarily a memory storage organ.

“Sentience” says Baxter, “does not seem to stop at the cellular level. It may go down to the molecular, the atomic and even the subatomic. All sorts of things which have been conventionally considered to be inanimate may have to be re-evaluated.”

CHAPTER 3 - I AM LIFE ENERGY

I AM RADIANT

Even the Mineral Kingdom sings in the knowledge that Spirit interpenetrates all form and substance. It shares the web of reason that communicates the togetherness of all things. Today the elemental Kingdoms are poised in expectation. They too await deliverance from the degradation which human error has heaped upon their consciousness.

Few Earth travellers have seen the glittering perfection of the Earth elements. Once crystalline and emitting the radiance of atomic fires as jewels in the footstool of My Throneroom, they have become dense and dull under the continuous bombardment of planetary effluvia. Even so they cry out in praise.

37...the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice for all the mighty works that they had seen;

38. Saying, Blessed be the King that cometh in the name of the Lord: peace in heaven, and glory in the highest.

39. And some of the Pharisees from among the multitude said unto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.

40. And he answered and said unto them, I tell you that, if these should hold their peace, the stones would immediately cry out.

Luke 19: 37-40

I AM Radiant

In all the Universe, there is no planet more eminently suited to abundant living than Planet Earth. Here, man is in the process of becoming I AM through the prudent exercise of free will - right choice or wrong choice of energy expenditure. Each decision, and there might be hundreds of such decisions in a single day, brings him closer to or further from the radiance of I AM.

Even so, light is not at war with darkness any more than good and evil are locked in mortal combat. It is the nature of light to cancel the effects of darkness. It is the nature of Spirit to lighten the world. It is the nature of Nature to purify its domain. It is the nature of life energy to fulfil the Divine Blueprint.

CHAPTER 3 - I AM LIFE ENERGY

I AM THE SEA

To this end one of the prime functions of elemental life is to maintain conditions of cleanliness in the Natural Kingdom.

You might call it garbage collection, street cleaning - washing each leaf and flower and dusting off the daisies. Fairies, gnomes, elves, trolls, leprechauns, devas, imps, and other popular cherubim and seraphim-like creatures are known around the world as Nature's domestic helpers. All are guided by the forces of light.

It is an error to equate heaven with some distant place far removed from the plane of matter. Heaven is a state of mind, a state of living in Light. It is also an error to believe that matter and spirit are in opposition, or that the former is bad and the latter good. Rather they stand juxtaposed as extremes of vibratory life energy, with every possible tone of wavelength in between. Upon this framework the tapestry of life is woven.

The very word matter is derived from the Latin root mater, or Mother. Matter provides the womb to nourish the god-seed wherein is My Love made Manifest. Therefore, to love Me yet wilfully harm or desecrate any part of My Natural element is inexcusable. Insofar as you have done it unto the least of these you have done it unto Me.

Technology is the creative gift of being able to explore and harness the energies of matter to better serve The Divine Blue- print. This can be done wherever the technologist might find a useful application for his skill, such as improving the quality of a plant or animal species. Technology was intended to be a very privileged form of mutual husbandry: Spirit, Nature and man working together for the betterment of all.

It is not difficult to see the disfavour with which I regard man, who has desecrated My Womb. Misused technology has primarily been geared to serve an elite few bent on power, often at great cost to the many. This, in spite of many lessons in the rise and fall of civilizations which tried to plunder Nature's storehouse of riches for personal profit.

I AM the Sea

Ancient man regarded nature as his loving Mother Earth. He fully acknowledged the influence of sun, moon, planets and elemental intelligence upon his environment, as do the loyal remnants of native North Americans today.

CHAPTER 3 - I AM LIFE ENERGY

I AM THE SEA

Hindus believe that with every indrawn breath man takes in life energy. They call it prana. Hippocrates, father of modern medicine, included many references to climate in his original works.

Today, after many centuries of scepticism, man is rediscovering the vital role of atmosphere in the well-being of Earth life.

For example, at the time of the full moon it is understood that many of Earth's great creative minds are subject to lunacy. Seeds germinate faster at this time. Plant growth is accelerated.

Haemophiliacs bleed more readily. Mentally disturbed people need more sedation. The homicide rate peaks. Philosophers have long since suggested that at the time of the full moon there is more electrical energy in the air than usual and metabolic processes are speeded up.

As a result of technological abuse a marked change is occurring in the atmosphere surrounding Earth. Man has to deal with conditions which are altering daily from the natural energy fields in which he evolved. This adds a new dimension to the process - evolve or perish. It brings new portent to the Divine Decree as related to St John:

And I saw a new heaven and a new earth; for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea.

Revelation 21:1

For the sincere technologist it can truly be said that plants are destined to be the bridesmaids at the wedding of physics and metaphysics. Like all the elemental forms of life, they are ready, willing and able to teach mankind how to go about building the New Earth Era, by compliance with life energy laws. This idea is not new.

In 1748 l'Abbe Nollet discovered that plants placed under charged electrodes grew faster. Father Gian Battista Baccaria of Turin University, wrote in 1775, "It appears manifest that nature makes extensive use of atmospheric electricity for promoting vegetation. This constantly prevails when the weather is serene. We have also observed that artificial electricity has the same effect.

Michael Faraday, the great English physicist, discovered that life energy is a phenomenon much like electricity. The lad received little formal education, but in

CHAPTER 3 - I AM LIFE ENERGY

I AM LUMINESCENCE

1812, after attending a scientific lecture, he requested employment with a scientific institution. He soon became established as the foremost experimental scientist of his day. He was the first person to plot the magnetic field around a conductor carrying an electric current. He discovered electro- magnetic induction diamagnetism. He extended Newton's force field theory and led to many later discoveries, such as the fact that the sea of ether is filled with life energy.

From the psychics' viewpoint Faraday's greatest invention was the Faraday Cage. For many years metaphysical scientists have used the Faraday Cage to test psychic powers. It is a room so heavily insulated with copper that no external electrical or radio waves can penetrate.

It was later discovered that plants grown in a Faraday Cage, cut off from normal force fields, yet otherwise given full care, could only grow to about half their normal size. Similarly, plants subjected to various electrical force fields responded with a 300% speedup in their growth rate.

Loliad explained that the underground gardens of Atlantis were the most beautiful ever beheld by man - yet their sole source of nourishment was vibratory.

I AM Luminescence

Luminescent life energy and electricity are very similar. A measurable force field, clearly discernable to an expanded consciousness, permeates Earth's life forms. The depth, breadth, intensity and colour of the aura bespeaks the health, vitality and capacity for energy transmutation gained by that which it envelopes.

Minute radiations from the soil, rock layers and the sun keep air electricity in balance

Russia's Semyon Kirlian, by laying film in contact with a leaf and passing a high frequency electric current through both, was able to photograph the leaf's aura.

Numerous experiments showed an identical aura in leaves from the same plants. After being picked the leaves gradually lost their sparkling luminescence until electrical death ensued.

On one occasion, observers were startled to find certain discrepancies in the aura of leaves from the same species of plant. This was the result of a plant disease, undetectable by normal scrutiny, which showed up in the electrical body of the plant long before the physical manifestation was apparent. Disease and death quickly follow when a life form is no longer able to apply life energy to fulfilling the matrix of its being.

In Plucking a Daisy

Living matter responds to the stimuli of atmospheric changes in various ways. Plants for example, respond to the pull of gravity by producing roots which grow in the direction of the gravitational pull and stems which grow away from gravitational pull.

Thus, the old adage that in plucking a daisy, one disturbs a star can no longer be regarded as mere philosophical dissertation.

Nature's territory includes the ionosphere which is the outer part of the Earth's atmosphere extending from about 50 miles above the Earth's surface. At this altitude the air is very thin, and the atmospheric particles are ionized by ultraviolet radiations. As with all yin-yang life, ions come with positive and negative charges, and are responsible for electricity in the atmosphere. Scientists agree that air electricity is vital to sustain Earth life, and is not something to be interfered with, as once lost there is no known method of replacement.

CHAPTER 3 - I AM LIFE ENERGY IN PLUCKING A DAISY

A contemporary American climatologist warns that industry is pumping the equivalent of five trillion metric tons of carbon into the air every year. This has already created a problem which will last for hundreds of centuries.

This pollution forms a high altitude blanket which prevents excess heat from escaping, causing a permanent rise in temperature - commonly known as the greenhouse effect. Such a drastic temperature increase could cause the polar ice caps to start melting, setting off world-wide floods and general changes in weather patterns.

In the ideal country environment minute radiations from the soil, rock layers and the sun keep air electricity in balance with between one to two thousand ions in each cubic centimetre.

While both positive and negative ions are essential to normal well-being, human civilization is upsetting the balance by destroying the more fragile negative ions. A shortage of negative ions causes persistent colds, nausea, generalized aches, headaches, bad tempers, listlessness, insomnia, loss of drive, etc.

Russian scientists engaged in measuring the effects of positive and negative ions found that small laboratory animals died in a few days when ions were removed from the air. Photosynthesis, the process by which plants grow, cannot take place without ions in the atmosphere. In Europe, Brazil, Japan, Russia and Israel, scientists have now proven that when the natural ion count is disturbed the effects are just as damaging to human physical and mental health.

Lightning clears the air of excess positive ions. But hours or days before the storm breaks the air is overloaded with positive ions which cause an oppressive reaction in both man and beast. Then, as all country folk know, during and after an electrical storm plants spring up, as the influx of negative ions takes the pressure off living things leaving radiant energy in its wake. Negative ions arrest harmful bacteria, literally clean the air. They improve the body's capacity to absorb oxygen.

Negative ions are attracted to dust, pollen, pollution and moisture particles in the air. In attaching themselves to these particles they lose their charge. The energy in moving water generates negative ions. Mountain air has a high ion count, up to 1,000,000 per cubic centimetre, as there is less dust at higher altitudes.

The ion count is always low in cities. The bigger the city the worse it is. The situation deteriorates annually as pollution continues to destroy the normal positive-negative ion ratio. Some people born in a city never know what it is to experience radiant health, but are constant victims of subtle maladies.

In 1976 members of I AM - Institute of Applied Metaphysics, were told to leave the cities and live together as a family in the country and adopt very simple eating habits. They thought this was strictly a spiritual command and acted accordingly. However, once used to the fresh country air, the contrast they found when going to an office block or shopping centre was tremendous. A two hour wait in an airport building was totally devitalizing.

Every human being on earth breathes about 2,500 gallons of air every 24 hours. In Nature ionization is a constant ongoing process. In artificial environments the depletion is extreme. Air conditioning is not the answer. Very often people working in centrally heated or air conditioned offices associate frequent colds with the draughts of hot or cold air. In fact, air which is forced through ducts is subjected to friction which results in an almost total loss of negative ions. The further the air has to travel the greater the loss. The high rise apartment dweller who works in a "dead air" sealed office building, stops to do some shopping or for a meal in a restaurant, hops in the car, and drives home to the apartment, or to an evening at the theatre or indoor gym has almost no access to negative ions. Such a person cannot possibly know what it is to feel really alive and well.

Most synthetic fabrics - carpets, drapes, clothes, underwear - make the situation worse as they generate positive ions, and so create a greater imbalance in ion ratios.

Alien electrical fields are also created by T.V. sets, electric stoves and many household appliances. The massive electrical conductors which run across many parts of highly developed countries have been found to have a decided detrimental effect on farmers working in the fields nearby. Cattle get sick. Egg production is reduced.

The fallout from air and car traffic is particularly serious, not only in decimating the ion count but in increasing harmful additives to the atmosphere. Atomic explosions produce devastating effects which will be present for centuries to come, and from this fallout there is no escape. Industrial pollution has almost claimed the life of the world's largest body of fresh water, the Great Lakes of North America.

Japan is a serious offender in industrial pollution, Huge business conglomerates dominate the scene, seeking only their own ends, which, strangely enough, are national and financial security. No voice of protest has a legitimate outlet, which has resulted in serious rioting in the last decade. This myopic path to socio-economic security leads only to self-destruction, as countless cases of air poisoning prove. Indeed all illusions which do not consider the simple precept "Live and let live" are self-destructive.

Since the time of the industrial revolution, overworked Devas have been losing the battle of purifying Earth's land, sea and atmosphere. In a recent Hydro conservation advertisement on T.V., a puppet dog must turn a wheel to produce electrical energy. As the number of electric lights turned on increases, the little dog must pump harder, using more energy to keep the lights burning. So it is with Devas. They are desperately overworked and fighting a losing battle. Few Earthlings seem to be either aware of what is happening or sufficiently concerned to act. Dedicated environmentalists cry out in vain.

"Each month we now pour so many millions of tons of poisonous wastes into the living sea that in perhaps twenty years, perhaps sooner, the oceans will have received their mortal wound and will start to die."

Jacques Cousteau

"A dead ocean will ultimately result in a dead planet."

Thor Heyerdahl

CHAPTER 3 - I AM LIFE ENERGY IN PLUCKING A DAISY

“Men have brought their powers of subduing the forces of nature to such a pitch that by using them they could now very easily exterminate one another to the last man. They know this - hence arises a great part of their current unrest, their dejection, their mood of apprehension. And now it may be expected that the other of the two ”heavenly forces,” eternal Eros, will put forth his strength so as to maintain himself alongside of his equally immortal adversary.”

Sigmund Freud

Any keen student of the Bible sees this as the time long since foretold.

And the seventh angel poured out his vial into the air; and there came a great voice out of the temple of heaven, from the throne, saying, “It is done.”

For her sins have reached unto heaven, and God hath remembered her iniquities.

CHAPTER 4 - I AM LOVE

I AM THE FATHER

CHAPTER 4 - I AM LOVE

I AM The Father

With the exception of My God Children, all Earth life glorifies as it resonates harmoniously within its band of creative intelligence. The elementals are comfortable in the unity of a group-soul. They enjoy a sense of being part of a vast whole rather than individual identities.

To the young Princeling more is given and more is required.

As previously explained, it is useful to describe Myself as a Trinity. My time is eternity. When My Omnipotence beams its focus of attention upon a specific theatre, it is for a set period, let's say a turn of the dial from zero to midnight. Time, in your sense, begins at this point. While immersed in this scene I identify with the Play, and participate as Jahl. The microdots which compose the play dance to the symphony of My Pleasure. We all share the joy.

An Alpha-Omega cycle occupies attention rather than time in the generally accepted sense. In reality there is only the infinite Now. Liken Me, if you will, to an optical fibre lamp. Macro- cosmically I AM the central light bulb steady across eternity, while My burning tip of conscious awareness is thrust out like an optical fibre to illuminate a specific theatre.

Scientists now understand that the Universe contains black and white holes. The black holes are potential plays waiting to be activated by My conscious focus. These are shared with all the children of light who have overcome in the previous production.

Or My burning tip of conscious awareness can be seen as a giant penis exploding

CHAPTER 4 - I AM LOVE

I AM THE FATHER

with God-sperm when thrust into dark void of Womb. I estimate that a 4-5% hatch of godlings in any one basket is a worthwhile percentage. These are the seeds which continue into the next cosmic production. As above so below: Mother Nature nourishes the most responsive. So do I. Neither of us have any misguided sympathies for weakness as ego's imitation-love implies. Evolution is eternal progression. That is Spiritual Law.

All Earth life glorifies as it resonates harmoniously with its band of creative intelligence

No created thing can break this law, only break itself against the law.

Jahl, the identity, is a result of the interaction between the Macrocosm and the Microcosm. I throw My Whole Self into the activity - leaving My Omnipotence on automatic pilot - until the time clock runs out on a particular play. As Jahl, I actually became a man with all the appropriate flesh and blood trappings. The optical fibre is like an elevator shaft up, which I can vibe climb to become one with Source - or vice versa. There really is no difference between us. As Jesus put it, "My Father and I are One".

Jahl is the outward thrust of My burning tip of conscious awareness. He brings light into darkness, energy into the void of immobility, love and life enough for all.

The god particles are magnetically attracted towards the light with varying degrees of intensity. The response was relatively sluggish at first when animal instincts were powerful and spiritual response might endanger physical life. Over the centuries however, a clear cut division was made between those who chose to remain sophisticated animals, and those who truly overcame. Each flicker of spiritual

CHAPTER 4 - I AM LOVE

I AM THE CHILD

response, from Adam forward, increases the spirit's power of magnetic attraction to light - or decreases it, according to the "meekness" of the individual.

In this way, of their own free will, potential gods make their commitment to the forces of light or the forces of darkness.

When the time clock strikes midnight, My burning tip of conscious awareness is withdrawn. The curtain falls. The lights go out. The production assistants gather up the props and return them to antinature. The Play is finished.

The Kingdom of Heaven is like a revolving door in the central hub of the Universal Wheel. I set before man an open door streaming with warmth, light and invitation, "Come in and join Me". Those who fail to respond must wait until the wheel turns right around - and the open door is once again facing their galaxy. At first it opens a tiny crack, then gradually to full width, for all to clearly see and enter as they please. It closes firmly, irrevocably, when the play is over and My Attention moves to another galaxy.

I AM The Child

Adam and Eve were superb specimens. Originally they were like children, happy among the other limited creatures, flowing with natural instinct - responsive, intelligent, curious. This was primarily because of a fortunate environment, later to become known as the continent of Atlantis. The climate was temperate, the growth lush, and natural enemies were relatively subdued. This made the Garden of Eden most conducive to a relaxed life style.

The stage setting was in fact perfect for the introduction of the god-spark to a physical host and the 26,000 year grand finale to the current earth play.

The advent of self awareness, the knowledge of I AM, ended their idyllic innocence, bringing with it the tempestuous vibe of self realization, separate identity and free choice. It also brought the responsibility to husband the Earth.

Man needed woman to reflect against in order to become self aware. Thus Eve is given the credit (or discredit) of initiating identity development.

CHAPTER 4 - I AM LOVE

I AM YIN-YANG

I AM Yin-Yang

This is an as above so below story.

I was the sole occupant of the vastness of infinity—motionless, motiveless, dormant. In the beginning I looked upon Myself to know love. Prior to that moment I had no capacity for self reflection.

Love, joy, life energy and motion are One. Life is a process of giving and receiving in ever increasing waves of reciprocity.

My moment of awareness is marked by a special symbol called YIN-YANG.

Yin-Yang is found at the very heart of Universal Energy. It exists by virtue of simultaneous contrast. These primal polarities can only exist together, as symbolized by the circle which surrounds the glyph. Each aspect is related and gives support to the other in the way that Nature and antinature govern their dimension.

Yin is the dark, passive, womblike earthy female element. Yang is the light, thrusting positive celestial male force.

Although there is sense in the Father-God concept, nothing would exist if I were not also equally the Female Principle. This is the basis of magnetic polarization in which consciousness and life energy are co-extensive.

Picture the sun, unaware of its brilliance until one day it sees itself reflected in the moon. An irresistible thrust, flowing outward with no return until it meets the immovable object. A spark of energy is produced when the male plug contacts the female outlet. Like water with a river bed through which to course, man “becomes” when he meets his mate. The motionless matrix of matter, the mathematical mother, is activated by the life energy force of the celestial spark.

The Yin-Yang symbol shows the design of a whole Spirit. It has a perfectly polarized set of interlocking component parts designed to bring the whole to its maximum potential. It is an infinitely self-generating unit.

When The Play began Yin-Yang units were broken into halves to be distributed at random over time and space on Planet Earth. The small circle of opposite colour in each piece is like a homing device. When each half has attained certain spiritual goals laid out in the 26,000 year curriculum, and is free of carnal dross, the powerful homing device draws the two halves together, so that they may participate in the final act as One Complete Being.

I AM YIN-YANG

A little spice is added by the sometimes widely differing Super-ego structures of the two host humans, whose programming doesn't always coincide with spiritual magnetism. Maximum contrast between the Yin and Yang brings a wealth of experience to the marriage. This enriches the whole by greatly increasing the breadth and depth of the emotional interaction.

The age, race, environmental background, even the dimension in which a Yin-Yang interacts has little bearing on the matter.

In fact, interdimensional Yin-Yang activity adds tone and a certain dynamic tension to the relationship. Yin-Yang love contains within itself all notes and wavelengths in the entire scale of vibratory activity - the ultimate filigree of mother-son, father-daughter, friend, lover, business partner, student-teacher, husband-wife.

This is why it is self-generating over time.

Winifred first explored this principle in 1928 during an intense mystical experience. Being left fatherless in infancy, the idea of a Heavenly Father was quite an acceptable concept throughout her life. Her tutor, Loliad-R-Kahn, was introduced as the Ringmaster in a circus when she was four years old. She was also told she was a young spiritual princess serving on a foreign mission. As She grew from infancy through adolescence to emotional maturity, Loliad kept the spiritual being consciously aware of etheric developments. Thus Winifred, and her spiritual counterpart Sasoleah grew up hand in hand, the one concentrating on earthly education, the other on spiritual role. They shared each other's secrets and for the most part lived a life of dimensional give and take in joyous harmony. But the time of Winifred's role was drawing nigh. An intensive period of education began wherein Winifred, formerly at the fore- front of the combined consciousness, was gradually replaced by the Spiritual consciousness of Sasoleah. The only loss of personality involved was that portion of mortal thought which was incompatible with infinite Love.

In Winifred's own words, she recounts:

"In retrospect, I rejoice in the silky smooth way in which, I was led through each of these stages of development. God, as portrayed in my Anglican parochial school, was hardly the Love that wordy teaching expounded. In essence it was obey or perish; step out of line and be punished. There was no association in my mind between God and Loliad. Loliad was my tutor. Stern at first, yet when the lesson had been learned, he would become a pleasant companion who called me "little Princess" and led the way into all sorts of fun experiences.

CHAPTER 4 - I AM LOVE

I AM YIN-YANG

"Occasionally my tutor took me to see Papa. I can still see the long column-lined hall, the shining floors and a central mighty tiered throne where Papa held court. Rows of courtiers stepped back as I clutched Loliad's hand to make our grand entrance down the centre aisle. Loliad would be wearing his full tutorial regalia, and I a simple white dress. Papa, the King, seemed enormous in stature but would take me on his knee to explain many things which were to come. Consciously I forgot every word... but my spirit never forgot. Being raised without a physical father there was no differentiation in my mind between a spiritual Father and an imagined physical father. It all helped further the plan that I now realize had been set in operation at the dawn of terrestrial life.

"As I grew up two other facets were introduced. In astral projection I would be led to places where starving children lay sleeping on newspapers in the streets, yet I could see the Spirit of God shining within them, indeed within all creatures. The spiritual maternal aspect of my nature became more fully developed.

"Yet in the formal astral classroom my teacher would often abandon his tutorial robes and invite me up to a higher plane of consciousness. Here he became Jahl - the lover. Papa made sense in his explanation, "When you are grown up you will first marry Loliad, then Me, for Loliad is just another aspect of Myself".

"Fortunately, on this plane of consciousness, logic and intellectual understanding were non-existent. I kept the matter in my heart and let it lie there undisturbed by any factual conflict. The faith-obedience lesson had been well instilled.

"Progressive unfoldment of consciousness was the central lesson in all my astral excursions. Now I began meeting Papa outside of His formal receiving chambers in the huge cavern of His Workshop or Control Room.

Although the rooms of this area seemed to unwind like a series of caverns, they were brightly lit and often took on a science fiction aspect, with pulsing light and energy waves bouncing back and forth. Being totally ignorant of the infinite complexity of this equipment, I much preferred to look at the pretty pictures.

CHAPTER 4 - I AM LOVE

I AM YIN-YANG

“These were like a series of television screens focused on various planets, with a zoom lens capacity to view the whole globe or any microscopic element thereon. It was possible to see all that was happening on Earth at any one moment in time - or to focus on the stamen of an individual flower.

“We could also see how Earth, like its fellows, was surrounded by a series of concentric circles representing the ladders of history. We could over-view the way in which karmic debt was being worked out on many different levels right across the galaxy.

“When I met Papa in this setting our relationship was quite different from the many other settings and identity garments we utilized. We had different names for different occasions and here He would become my confidant, Daddy Cave — for many years my fondest and most beloved God-Form.

“Something of my world fell apart the day I found that a lady had taken over the Cave. She was “Little Flame”, an exquisite creature, delicate and trembling. If I sent any vibe in her direction that was less than total love, she would flicker and recede from my consciousness like a candle in the wind. My emotional reaction was pure jealousy. I had always felt that the Cave was our very own secret place. No one else had ever been invited in there before. For many years I had been free to explore, entering and leaving at will regardless of whether or not the cave was occupied.

“Where is my Daddy? I want Daddy Cave.” This was the most aggressive vibe projection I could muster towards such a beautiful and fragile being. She wisped off into the furthest corner of the cave, faintly pulsating, and waited till I cooled off a bit. Daddy Cave had always been such a jolly Santa Claus sort of character.

Quite definitely he would disapprove of these “bull in the china shop” tactics. My training as a Princess of the Kingdom came to the fore then, and without a trace of aggressivity, and full of love and wonderment, I once again approached “Little Flame”. This time she did not falter but, meeting my steady gaze, smiled as she came softly forward, glowing and pulsating with a myriad of light streams. We came very close and stood for some time eye to eye, exchanging emotions.

“Fear not, I am yet another manifestation of your same Daddy Cave, even though I am less of an illusion to help your understanding. As He was enthroned in your heart, now is My time to come into your being, bringing with Myself infinite awareness and unlimited consciousness.”

CHAPTER 4 - I AM LOVE

I AM CAPTURED

“Dear Madam, I think you are exquisite. But illusion or not, I cannot stay. I shall find Daddy Cave wherever He may be, regardless of how long or complex the search.”

“Well spoken, my child. Of course we will find him together. I AM the principle of magnetic attraction now coming to dwell in the Cave of Mind. The fact that we are together means you have travelled very far along the way. For I represent the very highest component of consciousness, no longer separated by a veil. Let our flames of desire mingle, for we are One.”

“When I ‘came to’ at Madoc, some faint remnant of Winifred were still pouting. With the help of Little Flame, I, Sasoleah, took the necessary steps to erase the obstructive element of egotistical appropriation, and once again peace reigned in the triad of consciousness.

“In the transformation of consciousness from mortal to Divine, at every step of the way I was awestruck at the cognitive consistency which rapidly ensued as one outdated element would be removed and a progressive element introduced. This gratitude is directed primarily towards Loliad-R-Kahn, the masterful Teacher-Tone which enabled me to overcome all kinds of preconceptions concerning the nature of God and Its manner of expression.

“Now I fully understand that the god essence of which I speak is molded by the vessel of Winifred’s consciousness through which it flows, even as Loliad was a personality, quite real in that he also had passed through the schoolroom of mortality. But later, as a purified vessel, Loliad was an aspect of God personified, an identity garment, in exactly the same way that Winifred had become an identity garment for Myself.”

I AM Captured

When Adam and Eve gained the power of free will and separate identity, they began, like most children to ignore parental advice and experiment with independence. Thus began the long descent from grace, away from spiritual humility to self-centred ways. Then, as the tribes of Israel began to cover the face of the earth, each making its own set of rules of conduct, the sins or blessings of the fathers became superimposed on the children (yes, even down to the DNA memory factor) and will continue to be until the present Alpha-Omega cycle reaches completion.

During the period when intelligent spiritual energy is coalescing in the womb, its throbbing love-vibe is subjected to various maternal modifications. The child can only learn to deal with life according to the programming received from the parents, particularly, in the early stages, from its mother. From the moment of birth the infant responds to the modus operandi presented. If mother is relaxed, happy, positive, the baby soon learns to smile back. Yet far more significant is the mother's underlying attitude, her inner way of being, even though this may never be voiced or externalized. This esoteric vibration is constantly beaming out from her aura to the child long before words have any meaning. If she feels secure, cherished, adequate, god-oriented, these vibes will form the basis for the child's future way of being. Insecurity, inadequacy, self-centred attitudes will manifest similarly.

I AM THE SOWER

If the child is really not wanted and the mother doesn't pay it much attention, then this little child, throughout its entire life, will go around saying "Hi, here I am. Notice me. Oh, please pay attention to me", as an underlying note in whatever else it may be doing.

This is why I AM - Institute of Applied Metaphysics, has been instructed to teach students how to get back to these first few months of life to examine and, if necessary, correct unsuccessful modus operandi. Prior to this exercise a person is "born to win" or "born to lose" in physical life because of factors which no external circumstance may alter.

A good illustration of this point is the doomed-to-failure efforts of society to increase the living standards of "the poor", who have never been shown how to use life energy efficiently. An essential prerequisite to success in these endeavours is to reprogram an inadequate modus operandi. Without this, all the financial benefits in the world will not permanently improve the lot of such victims.

However, as one gets deeper and deeper into self-exploration it becomes evident that all men are the puppets of programmed reaction. True, some methods of interaction may bring higher degrees of success in worldly affairs. But what does it profit a man if he gains the whole world, yet loses his soul?

I AM The Sower

Thus it is written:

- 3. And he spake many things unto them in parables, saying, Behold, a sower went forth to sow;*
- 4. And when he sowed, some seeds fell by the wayside, and the fowls came and devoured them up;*

CHAPTER 4 - I AM LOVE

I AM MERCIFUL

5. Some fell upon stony places, where they had not much earth: and forthwith they sprung up, because they had no deepness of earth;
6. And when the sun was up, they were scorched; and because they had no root, they withered away.
7. And some fell among thorns; and the thorns sprung up, and choked them;
8. But others fell into good ground, and brought forth fruit, some an hundredfold, some sixtyfold, some thirtyfold.
9. Who hath ears to hear, let him hear. Matthew 13:3-9.

The embryonic god, needing to give and receive love in an acceptable way soon learns to conform to social pressures. In a society or a household where little or no value is placed on the inner wealth of esoteric discernment, but rather on external goals such as status, security, monetary gains, competition, a child gets no positive reinforcement to pursue spiritual goals. High moral and ethical principles, as given to Moses and later as taught in The Sermon on the Mount, are low in attention priorities. In neglecting to emphasize, by word and action, that these are key tenets to successful living, the parents automatically profess adherence to “other gods” when the law of life clearly states THOU SHALT HAVE NONE OTHER GODS BEFORE ME!

I AM Merciful

Nevertheless I AM exceedingly merciful. Mercy is quite different from leniency. Mercy abounds when man, remorseful of past error, decides to change his ways. Though his programming is a mess and scarlet sins blot life’s copy book, there is no need for despair.

There is still time for those of passionate desire to repent of misused energy and find eternal life. Sasoleah was trained in administering these techniques many years ago.

CHAPTER 4 - I AM LOVE

I AM MERCIFUL

The single greatest cause of lost souls is inertia, or apathy. It is an attitude towards life of not spending much energy on anything. Making no investment brings no return, as explained in the parable of the three talents.

The only person who cannot be helped is he who, after showing some initial spark of interest in pursuing spiritual goals, soon becomes complacent. In essence, the battle is waged on the fuel of desire - desire for worldly goals, desire for spiritual goals. Better to have any kind of desire than no desire at all.

If desire is present, three personality components govern the success or failure of the princeling's Earth mission.

Oh my Father! How I thank thee for senses and sensations!, and instincts through which I express the joy of living

- 1) Identity: the central magnetic core, the burning tip of conscious awareness.
- 2) Psyche: the spirit spark attuned to My Wavelength. It has the capacity to express Love, Truth and Wisdom. It can differentiate between right and wrong.
- 3) Ego: Nature's selective scrutineer, operating on like and dislike principles in life energy usage; antimagnetic or separative in function, when viewed from a spiritual perspective.

Picture now our embryonic god, injected into matter, armed with a blueprint for perfection and synchronized vibration with Source. See the spirit spark, eager to woo and wed identity, accepting its path of destiny in the dimension of substance and form.

CHAPTER 4 - I AM LOVE

I AM MERCIFUL

Imagine the shock this tender conglomerate of energetic molecules must experience when ejected from the warm womb into the harsh light, sound, odour, temperature and touch of physical reality.

Enter desire - the desire to live, to experience, to pass life along to others. In metaphysical terms, the instincts of Survival, Sensation and Sex now take control of the organism.

For Myself, all these desires were consolidated within a few hours of My arrival, when mother's breast presented a warm invitation. It was round, soft, of subtle odour; I felt the nipple hard against my virgin tongue, flowing with milk and honey. But the physical sensations were dim in comparison to the waves of love and tenderness which enveloped My whole being as I snuggled close to the strange yet familiar aura of Mother.

Oh, My Father! How I thank Thee for senses and sensations, and instincts through which to express the joy of living.

Life is not always that simple. Not all physical parents understand love, and so are unable to give. The initial passionate connection is less intense, the desire link less well defined.

Yet standing there in the wings, like some kind fairy godmother, is Ego, Nature's insurance agent. It hovers anxiously, warm, protective, devoted, ready to cushion life's blows and guard its charge from all unfavourable circumstances. So begins a lifelong companionship valid "until death do us part."

The harsher the youthful environment, the closer the bond. Ego is like a goldfish bowl placed over a child's head. It is through this protective covering, paper thin or armour plated, according to need, that the child will experience the outside world. All sense reception thenceforth is distorted to conform with egotistical interpretation of fact.

However, the identity has a second source of assistance - a special angel-guide who keeps contact through the psyche, or sixth sense. It is a source of input on a vibratory scale beyond egotistical interference; an inner power; a cosmic connection; a promise of access to an esoteric life quite separate from the existential point of view. A careful study of dream analysis makes this abundantly clear. It is like the story of the aging philosopher who dreamed he was a butterfly frolicking in the sun and dipping into the nectar of dew drenched blossoms. On awakening to the harsh external reality of his frugal life he ponders: which is reality? Perhaps I really am a butterfly dreaming I am a man.

Certainly the newborn infant spends most of its time sleeping and dreaming while adjusting to the harshness of existential life. At this time there is no separation between esoteric and exoteric focus. Then the curtain of consciousness gradually closes - a filmy veil at first, which slowly solidifies into an iron curtain of separate existence.

Life's play begins as the identity strives for balance and expression in the school of life.

Survival, Sensation, Sex

Identity can be considered as the cup of consciousness into which the formless psyche may gather a full harvest of Earth experience. In order to coax the organism to indepth exploration, the identity cup comes equipped with three basic instinctual drives, like three indentations in the bottom of the cup which must be filled. These are the needs of SURVIVAL, SENSATION, and SEX.

These instincts are designed to focus desire with maximum intensity.

- 1. outwards - to explore the external world of Nature's wonderland: to appreciate the finite attractions of the exoteric and their relation to self.*
- 2. inwards - to fill the inner yearning to investigate, saturate and consummate the spirit on the esoteric plane of inner reality; to realize the atonement of all things.*

This Yin-Yang factor, when properly co-ordinated, creates a fine dynamic tension. A balanced blend of exoteric-esoteric activity determines the charisma, or inner power, of the adult individual.

During the years of growing up, identity coffers are filled according to need and intensity of desire. Although defined separately, the key elements of survival, sensation and sex are all aspects of a single instinct. Suppression of one direct outlet invariably allows greater energy flow through other channels. These manifest differently at succeeding stages in life.

CHAPTER 4 - I AM LOVE

SURVIVAL, SENSATION, SEX

Mother's breast is the cornerstone or anchor of identity. It is the secure base from which to start progressive outreaches of balanced exploration. It is the child's initial instrument of survival, sensation and sexual identification as a beloved son. All future identification is based on this initial experience.

This kind of passionate acceptance negates the erection of protective barriers. The child and parent commence an open relation -ship with mutual trust and recognition. The flow begins.

Maternal acceptance makes it easy to train the child in the right ways of conduct. Parents who fluctuate between acceptance if the child is "good" and rejection if the child is "naughty", create deep insecurities which make for an anxious dependent adult, always eager to please. Many adolescents will go along with peer attitudes, even if it means getting into all sorts of mischief, just to be "one of the gang."

Positive reinforcement when the child pleases is much better than the heavy "no-no" attitude so popular in well intentioned disciplines. If more attention is gained by naughtiness than by steady performance, a child will quickly learn to get its special attention one way or another. Attention is the only substitute for acceptance that ego understands. This makes for a "closed" personality, hesitant to trust others or give freely of itself.

In such a child the giving of affection is governed closely by the dictates of like and dislike, and an unconscious estimate on the probable return of an investment of self.

A positive upbringing builds a strong identity, ensuring that ego is relegated to the status of servant rather than master. With little acceptance or positive reinforcement, ego weaves a spider web of protection around sensitive areas. This shows as a cloudy circular pattern in the aura rather than a clear, sharp, vigorous inward-outward swing of Yin-Yang activity towards exoteric and esoteric exploration.

If ego is called upon to become a surrogate mother, unless inter- vention occurs in the form of an acceptant father, grandparent, sibling or such, ego will become all things to its young charge. Together they will live in their own separate world, built largely on illusionary desire.

This is not necessarily unpleasant. Ego makes a fine servant during this period by helpfully selecting useful experiences. It throws itself wholeheartedly into the illusion of being a separate entity.

CHAPTER 4 - I AM LOVE

SURVIVAL, SENSATION, SEX

It both provides and wards off many threatening situations. It makes life more colourful by magnifying or minimizing events. It accumulates data in like and dislike files for a lifelong reference system. This activity goes on in all children, more or less according to the degree of egotistical dependence.

Ice cubes are only separate entities if they remain fixed in a frozen state. Warm'em up a little and they flow together as one. The only difference between this example and mankind is that the magnetic core (ice cube) of human identity can recapture the time when it lived as a separate form, and was molded by a unique series of events such as no other person ever experienced.

Thus the illusion of separation which overshadows a man's Earth-time is false in the eternal sense and doomed to exposure upon serious investigation. Ego implies man is a thought apart, a separate being. It proposes a choice of options which do not exist. If it succeeds in feeding the illusion, the identity ends up in the separateness of hell, there to remain with its surrogate mother-father-friend-lover until time is no more.

With every successful repeat of a separative modus operandi the identity becomes snarled in a tangled web of confusion. The cognitive consistency of purposeful living, which results from the increasing momentum of the ever expanding in-out Yin-Yang swing of esoteric-exoteric alignment is lost. Like a thirsty man wandering in the desert, it is as if the identity begins going round and round in circles, always coming back to the same place and getting nowhere. These ever tightening circles bind all free thought to the endlessly repetitive wheel of addictive response to ego-dominated like-dislike patterns. Hence the expression - "there is no rest for the wicked".

Because of its ultimately impossible position, ego strives to appropriate and imitate the true emotional expressions of the psyche. While ego controls the emotional mechanism any understanding of love or truth is impossible. Although it constantly promises new diversions which will deliver happiness and fulfilment, ego has no capacity to deliver. True, a momentary sensation of pleasure follows self-gratification in any area. But we are speaking of deep lasting joy and permanent growing satisfaction with cognitive consistency in every aspect of life.

To tighten its grip ego's "likes" masquerade as needs that must be satisfied. These simply lead from one illusion to the next, forming a bondage of addiction, which soon makes the identity a slave to egotistical demands on how life energy should be spent.

CHAPTER 4 - I AM LOVE

SURVIVAL, SENSATION, SEX

An addiction exists when ego causes an emotional reaction for not having its way or when the outside world does not conform to inner expectations. In childhood, a child might say "I want ice cream".

If mother says "yes" that's fine. But after a few repeats of this demand for a "like" item, should mother say "no" a tantrum ensues.

The addiction file is started. Mother, in this case is represented as the oppressor, ego the friend.

Because ego believes in separation - me-you, mine-thine, - it instinctively feels that it needs power to control and manipulate others, if it is to be successful in its endeavours. Exaggerated threat reactions result whenever things don't go its way or when an addiction cannot be satiated.

It is only when one glimpses the pattern from the clear perception of higher consciousness that the tangle becomes evident. The psyche speaks to the identity of the togetherness of all things, the equal right to life of all people, the love thy neighbour as thyself concept (which is the only possible way in which there can be plenty for all).

Only when the pattern of addictive thought is broken is the identity free to perceive clearly the real conditions of life. This means having self-acceptance in the here and now. In taking the path of love, truth and wisdom, the identity is able to free itself of egotistical dominance and find its true potential as an embryonic god.

The truth shall make you free - free of addictive chains of programmed habits, free to be whole and in atonement with cosmic consciousness, free of the law of sin and death.

The last great lie to be unmasked is the illusion of sin and death which Adam invoked when free will was misapplied. My Law is the law of love and of eternal life; return to the unique perfect matrix waiting for you alone; alignment with your god-self; atonement.

This is the power of the correct use of life energy. As yet man has only the vaguest idea of what life is all about. Try now to accept the possibilities.

One attribute of the relatively perfected life is the retention of the physical body in strength and vigour for as long as the identity pleases.

CHAPTER 4 - I AM LOVE

SURVIVAL, SENSATION, SEX

One also acquires ever increasing brilliancy and clarity of thought, enough to bring success to any worthwhile undertaking. The arterial expansion factor allows an ever increasing volume of life energy to be transformed into creatively. The spirit was like a one watt light bulb shining through the globe of personality. The original twofold exercise presented to Winifred was to increase the wattage of the spirit while trying to erase erroneous markings from the personality globe.

I AM, Institute of Applied Metaphysics, in its infancy could aptly be described as, “A blind man in a dark room, looking for a black cat - which isn’t there”, as Charles Bowen put it. But gradually the wattage builds to a five, ten, hundred, thousand watt element, which spotlights more and more areas of error to be erased. And so begins the spiral ascent of the person who learns to use life energy wisely.

Planet Earth’s evolution can be described the same way. In man’s early beginnings few men could cope with too much spiritual wattage. This had to be built up gradually over the ages. Those who showed promise in the one watt age went on to populate the five watt age. Extra wattage was granted to all who had extraordinary use in their previous assignment.

Although the perfect matrix is yours for the conquering of obstacles, this only represents the globe or lamp shade which awaits in your heaven. The wattage which goes into this globe is entirely a matter of passion, strength of desire with which the mountain top of consciousness has been scaled, and life energy force deployed in getting there.

These latter days are to the spiritual seeker what the gold rush was to the pioneers. The territory is up for grabs. Stake your claim. Take all the life energy wattage you can rightly use. You live in an age when man has the capacity to become a spiritual giant, a beacon, an heir to the Kingdom, in my house of many mansions.

CHAPTER 4 - I AM LOVE

I AM HAPPINESS

I AM Happiness

I created the Universe for joy, to be a place of perfect happiness for all which dwell therein

Happiness comes when cognitive consistency has been established between the lower and higher thought wavelengths. Identity is no longer torn between two lovers. Differences have been resolved, all personality components dance together in harmonious rhythm.

Prior to this internal-external alignment, most people assume that to follow their personal desires will lead to happiness. These are usually goals of status, sex, pleasure, money, security, acceptance, power - all kinds of self-gratification addictions.

With the right use of life energy, Love, Happiness and Flow are automatically co-incident. Until he can learn to love both him- self and others, man is ruled by wants and desires which ego proposes as suitable substitutes for love.

The Hindu idea of renunciation of all physical desires is a good way for the average over-indulged North American student to begin the task of eradicating addictions. Silence, fasting, dream analysis, written and spoken regurgitation of programmed material, and meditation are some of the most effective ways of dealing with the initial onslaught of egotistical dominance. Rarely is a person consciously aware of the source of his motivational drives, for they lie deep under the accumulated debris of years of misspent energy.

It is usually only after many months of self-examination in a secluded environment that deeper motivations are revealed.

Why the secluded environment? Every repeat of an addiction or particular modus operandi reinforces the pattern on unconscious levels of the mind. In normal daily life, one may be addicted to turning on the radio, reading the newspaper, drinking coffee, smoking, familiar thought patterns, eating foods with flavour-enhancing additives, ingesting all kinds of negative thoughts from the environment, perhaps watching T.V., driving one's car, wearing makeup, bathing, etc.

I AM HAPPINESS

Addictions are false energy expenditures masquerading as needs, backed by emotional demands which cause adverse reactions if they are not promptly fulfilled. The bathing and shaving addiction becomes obvious when the water supply is cut off - what a clamour when a few bodies have to go dirty for a couple of days! A small sample of what souls have to experience!

Acceptance of the here and now permits no enervating addictive energy expenditure. Certainly one would prefer to bathe and shave.

But it is futile to waste energy in anxiety or vexation. A preference is something more desirable, for which one may have a greater liking, but if it is not fulfilled, there is no adverse reaction. The Hindu sage would put it this way:

"One to me is loss or gain:

One to me is fame or shame,

One to me is pleasure, pain."

Until a man emotionally understands the togetherness of all things, he is without love. Incorrect use of life energy very often causes a man to perceive the people around as threatening. It is as if he is surrounded by a sea of separate entities, each striving to gain their own ends, at cost to others. Ego's goal is to make sure he gains in any exchange and gives nothing away for free. In this sense labour perceives management as a threat to a better way of life. Ireland's Protestants and Catholics perceive their fellow countrymen as a threat. Some Quebecers see the English language ocean all around as a threat. Dark skinned people might perceive light skinned people as a threat.

For the separative-oriented ego, this attitude is justified. Believing others to be basically as grasping as itself, it believes that people, for the most part, are out to serve their own ends without concern for the rights of others.

But the energy expenditure required to maintain the home front in the midst of constant threat is exhausting. Anxiety, jealousy, fear, frustration, boredom, cynicism, anger, paranoia - all represent separative thought patterns, and addiction to the illusion that it is you and ego against the world. I AM portrayed as powerless in this daily drama - a remote, unconcerned Deity, unaware even when two sparrows fall to the ground.

I AM HAPPINESS

An understanding of love and happiness calls for a rearrangement of priorities: identification with the inner god-self, all powerful once enthroned in the identity; and a sense of atonement, unity with all life, in both its broadest and most microscopic manifestation.

By gaining this clear perception of true values, people and situations can no longer be perceived as threatening but more as interesting teaching aids along the road to graduation.

Pause for a moment to think of the most threatening situation you have experienced this week. Are world conditions getting you down? Is the new boss hard to get along with? Is your marriage not quite up to par? Is your rent going up? Your child sick? Your lover straying? Has drought hit your region?

First decide if there are any practical steps you can take to remedy the situation with right use of energy. If so, fine, do it. But do not let the computer start on a trend of worry and anxiety which only results in drained energy. All these conditions are part of life's journey, designed to keep your focus of attention on exoteric planes. Without the ups and downs of the soap opera drama of the lower self, what would life be all about?

Negative emotional reactions are quite futile and simply lower your effectiveness to deal with the situation. They represent the lowest scale of available human thought patterns. Learning to control these thought patterns is a key aspect in developing a wider range of conscious awareness.

Thoughts are real. After all the illusion has passed away you are what you think. To "war with the Power of Darkness" simply means to deny the egotistical lie of separation.

As a particular part of My body you are without equal. No other being in the Universe has exactly the same blueprint of perfection. No one else can equal or surpass your capacity when brought to its ultimate fulfilment. If you follow the paths laid down with diligence, you will in time command the world of your own mind. While others may compel your admiration, there is no need to abase yourself as a consequence.

CHAPTER 4 - I AM LOVE

I AM HAPPINESS

Perfection is attained through constant thought control. The identity can no longer submit to ego dominance but must challenge each false thought at its point of origin. This is yet another reason for cloistered environs while the personal battle rages.

In essence man is a thought body. Every time a new thought is added to his consciousness, the whole frame of intellectual reference must be changed to accommodate this new idea. This often means re-examining and displacing former beliefs in order that the new person might have cognitive consistency. A man can literally become a new person — born again. The speed of transition is governed by the rate at which one can discard useless or unnecessary thoughts and replace them with new, constructive thought patterns geared to the right use of life energy.

A sense of atonement, unity with life even in its most microscopic manifestation

The more support and reinforcement offered by the environment the better it is. Under normal home circumstances, the seeker is beset with a host of unseen adversaries, in the form of thoughts unconsciously emitted by people around him. Immature, negative, envious, cynical thoughts call for a wearisome day of turning the other cheek. So much energy is spent just keeping cheerful and positive in such circumstances that it's very hard to make any real progress.

The soap opera drama of friends and relatives continues unabated. The seeker is often compelled to ingest thoughts of sickness, avarice, gloom and discouragement, just going out to earn a living. This makes it all the more difficult to understand a law which projects that we must be, in body and mind, that which we think.

Ideally, it is best to finish up one's earthly affairs, and save enough to enter a transformation centre for as long a time as it takes to complete the transition.

CHAPTER 4 - I AM LOVE

I AM THE WAY

I AM The Way

The descent cycle is completed and the ascent cycle begins in earnest when basic identity needs have been filled. Having savoured the multi-faceted attractions of physical life with keen appreciation for every beautiful detail, the young person is ready for a real identity crisis.

Is life henceforth to be more of the same? An endless pursuit of security, sensation and sex? A ceaseless struggle to maintain ego addictions? Or is there something else?

The person who has learned to expend large amounts of energy in the positive pursuit of wide ranging physical goals now becomes a prime candidate for the ultimate quest - the inner voyage, the search for his own god-self, the unfoldment of his life plan, and eventual role in the scheme of cosmic destiny.

As with all worthwhile endeavour, the capacity to understand and reciprocate My Love comes gradually at first. In all probability the novice must first overcome some deep underlying fear that I AM a “Big Stick God”, bent on bringing Creation to its knees to prove My own Omnipotence. Nothing could be further from the truth. Too much too soon simply invites egotistical appropriation which over-whelms the novice. To unravel all the mysteries of the Universe at once for the untutored mind would be to convey super-human power before super-human understanding has been attained. Pow! goes the light bulb. A disaster for all! With gradual unfoldment of the consciousness, as with the petals of a rose, each stage, each moment, can be fully appreciated to the lasting satisfaction of the spiritual pilgrim.

Release from illusion begins when I replace ego in the identity's scale of values.

The first stage in the transference process begins with an understanding of the protected towards the protector, similar to the early Judaic belief of a Masterful War Lord Jehovah - mighty in battle, invincible in adversity, requiring instant obedience even to commands contrary to the dictates of existential logic.

Obedience keeps pilgrims on the straight path. It helps avoid needless complications of intellectual sophistry met along the way. It can circumvent many pitfalls and errors of ignorance, for intelligence is an unreliable guide to truth when operating in any way under the influence of egotistical illusion. It sets a tone of spiritual humility which will deepen daily when new heights of understanding are being scaled. It defies egotistical appropriation.

CHAPTER 4 - I AM LOVE

I AM THE WAY

Once spiritual humility has been established, a new vibration is introduced into our relationship. The pilgrim begins to understand that I created the Universe for joy, to be a place of perfect happiness for all which dwell therein. See Me now as Father-Mother God, building a home of many-dimensional mansions in preparation for My family. Like all true parents I want to give each offspring a royal heritage. Jesus, the first offspring of the Divine Yin-Yang union, was sent forth from Our cosmic home to show the way back for each young son and daughter of heaven, to upgrade the Judaic-Jehovah concept to the consciousness of God the Father. Because the collective unconscious of the human race has absorbed this concept during the past 2,000 years, today's spiritual pilgrim has an easier path to follow.

The emotional understanding of being a little child, princeling of the Royal Household, releases waves of innocent delight which flood the playground of consciousness with joy and wonderment. Place your burdens upon Me, I invite My Children. Put aside the cares which deprive you of the joy of realization that all is in My Hands. Know that you are the inheritors of two worlds - the one within and the one without. Talk with Me as you would a wise earthly mother or father. Come claim your inheritance.

When a close rapport has been established at this level of unfoldment, the childlike soul begins to have a sense of growing up. This leads into a stage of companionship, such as a son might feel when Dad takes him camping, or a daughter when she goes shopping with mother. Father-Mother God is always there to help out when needed, but not in an obtrusive way. It is the type of relationship developing metaphysicians have with their personal guides, a sense that one is never alone, that this deep abiding companionship is based on having a common cause in life.

Next, as the spiritual maturation process unfolds the positions are reversed. Somehow I become the child and you the parent. All the original protective emotions experienced are now returned. It is similar to the emotion a Christian may feel at Christmas time as the carillon peels "Away in a Manager" and adoration of the Christ child fills his heart.

The exploration of reciprocity of Love culminates in the mystical marriages described by many saintly men and women over the ages. The uncluttered consciousness experiences the realization that we are one - and that within this relationship is the heaven that every spirit strives for. As William James describes it,

"The very heavens seemed to open and pour down rays of light and glory. Not for a moment only, but all day and night, floods of light and glory seemed to pour through my soul, and oh, how

CHAPTER 4 - I AM LOVE

I AM THE WAY

I was changed, and everything became new. My horses and hogs and everybody seemed changed.”

Another beautiful description, by William Bucke:

“All at once, without warning of any kind, I found myself wrapped in a flame-coloured cloud. For an instant I thought of fire, an immense conflagration somewhere close by in that great city: the next, I knew that the fire was within myself. Directly afterward there came upon me a sense of exultation, of immense joyousness accompanied or immediately followed by an intellectual illumination impossible to describe. Among other things, I did not merely come to believe, but I saw that the universe is not composed of dead matter, but is, on the contrary, a living Presence: I became conscious in myself of eternal life. It was not a conviction that I would have eternal life, but a consciousness that I possessed eternal life then; I saw that all men are immortal: that the cosmic order is such that without any peradventure all things work together for the good of each and all; that the foundation principle of the world of all worlds, is what we call love, and that the happiness of each and all is in the long run absolutely certain. The vision lasted a few seconds and was gone: but the memory of it and the sense of the reality of what it taught has remained during the quarter of a century which has since elapsed.”

CHAPTER 5 - I AM UNIVERSAL LAW
I AM THE WORD

CHAPTER 5 - I AM UNIVERSAL LAW

I AM The Word

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the word was God.

The same was in the Beginning with God.

All things were made by Him; and without Him was not anything made that was made.

In Him was Life; and the Life was the Light of men.

And the Light shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not.

John 1:1-5

I cannot tell you of the days when I was a thought in the mind of Omnipotence, save that I was billowed in love, and knowledge of the Universe flowed through My Foetus Being. I AM hardly conscious of existence when behold I AM two. Matrix and Energy, words and music, male and female. We have been bouncing around the cosmos together ever since.

The creation of a universe is like writing a song. Each is an indepth form of communication. Although I cannot be understood except through direct “musical” experience, words provide a map that can bring us to that rendezvous.

Imagine that! Twenty-six letters of the alphabet can be arranged and rearranged to convey the pictures by which we learn to experience each other.

Learning a language is learning to think in symbols. Yet words are so much less than the realities for which they stand. Too heavy a reliance on words constricts understanding, words are but stepping stones to direct perception which is not filtered through the selective screening of linguistic and cultural patterns. To break the semantic barrier it is wise to explore facets of the Word as expressed through the ages in many different tongues. Each shade of expression helps broaden one's spiritual horizon, till intellect and intuition merge.

Early man communicated by some 700,000 meaningful gestures and facial expressions. These, when accompanied by various grunts, murmurs and screeches, finally evolved into the three thousand languages presently used on Earth today.

Initially all knowledge was passed on by word of mouth from the elders to the younger members of the tribe. The sage or story-teller was highly revered by the community. However, facts were invariably coloured by the disposition of the elder, particularly when heroic deeds were related. Eventually, fiction and fact were so closely intermingled that no one really believed very much of anything.

This led to the development of flat recitation and endless repetition of detail as a means of passing knowledge from one generation to the next. To prod the reluctant memory, the elders used a stick to trace designs in the sand as clues to the opening thought of the next stanza. The stick also served to keep students awake if the heat of the afternoon made them too drowsy to concentrate.

Writing was born towards the close of the middle Atlantean period. As the explorers began to fan out from the known world to discover what lay beyond, they were confronted with serious communication gaps. There were just no words to describe some of the wonders of foreign objects and animals they encountered during their journeys. Then some enterprising youth came up with the idea of forming miniature clay replicas which could be taken home for all to see. Likewise, outgoing missionaries had replicas of their own familiar objects made to show to strangers in order to bridge language barriers in foreign lands.

The small clay tokens aroused tremendous interest both at home and abroad. They soon became a common form of cultural exchange among neighbouring tribes. A traveller seeking hospitality would exchange entertainment (showing his collection of tokens) for food and shelter.

The prevailing cloth and leather containers were not sturdy enough to protect the rigid figurines over long journeys. Travellers then learned to form hollow clay balls into which the tokens could be sealed for safe transportation. An index system was developed whereby the hardened replicas were pressed into the surface of the soft clay balls to indicate the contents of each one. As the clay hardened the surface of each ball then showed an exact accounting of its particular value. When required, the ball could be broken like a piggy-bank — and a new one made for the next trip.

CHAPTER 5 - I AM UNIVERSAL LAW

I AM THE WORD

The balls also served as show windows for the traveller's collection. With just the right dramatic flair a traveller could intrigue his audience. Even then, a good bargaining position was the hallmark of a successful businessman. By brandishing the ball with suitable ceremony, the traveller was able to get better mileage, for his reputation preceded him from place to place.

This led to the development of trade routes and actual exchange of goods between tribes. On departure, the servant in charge of a caravan would be given a ball containing replicas of the actual merchandise. When sent ahead by messengers, these balls attracted potential customers, guaranteeing an eager welcome and suitably primed audience. This greatly facilitated the arrival of the caravan and disposal of its contents for the best possible exchanges.

Merchants soon learned to recognize the distinctive impressions on the surface of the balls. This led to the point where the replicas has no further purpose; nor indeed the containers. These soon collapsed into flat tablet form, and the advent of writing was assured.

These hollow clay balls have been uncovered by earth's archaeologists. It is estimated they date back as far as 8500 B.C.

They contain not only shapes and designs to symbolize different commodities but also numbers. One of the most common symbols is a flat disc bearing an incised cross symbolizing a lamb. This one seems to have withstood the test of time even unto the end of time...

The ability to crystallize ideas into glyphs, and later into alphabets, is man's prime accomplishment. With the written word as a reference point man, can span time and generations of thought. Writing is essential to the development of a strong identification with the continuity of human growth patterns. It enables man to accurately record his history, his skills, his laws. In this way knowledge can be preserved and multiplied.

Growth of consciousness is however a balanced process of action and being. If either of these yin-yang aspects are neglected the resultant stagnation retards further progress.

For example, of all the tongues spoken on Earth today, Chinese has the most users — about 900 million. Even so, three factors confine this tongue to regional use: the 30,000 characters in the old Chinese script, widespread illiteracy and negligible commercial activity over the ages. It cannot be considered a valid means of worldwide communication. Even in ancient Babylon, a 600 character alphabet was taught to both male and female scholars. Lacking an alphabet, Chinese rarely borrow words from foreign languages, for words cannot be spelled out as they sound to the ear. Thus it expresses new words by adding to ancient roots. Electricity is therefore an extension of the word for lightning, telephone becomes lightning-talk, telegraph is lightning-report. This leads to awkward and complicated phrases instead of the relatively simple technical terms used in other languages throughout the world.

On the other hand English, Earth's second most used language, is far more widespread. It is rapidly becoming the only dominant language at world level.

Today's English differs considerably from that used by Shakespeare, or the early biblical scholars. And the Romano-Celtic which provided the basis for English in use around 500 B.C would be meaningless jargon to the modern ear.

Current written English consists of relatively short sentences—pertinent, and easily assimilable. This is in stark contrast to the style popular a few decades ago. The French translation being made of this book will be nearly half as thick again to convey the same ideas.

An English dictionary begins to go out of date the moment it is published. About two hundred new words are added every year. Some of these new words are shortened forms of old words, for easier pronunciation. Much impetus was added in the last one hundred and fifty years as the result of rivalry between Noah Webster and Joseph Worcester, two publishers who began a “war of dictionaries”. These men used every stratagem of high-powered salesmanship to drive each other off the market. The goal was to capture the tongues of floods of European immigrants to the U.S.A. with a simplified system of spelling and pronunciation. Strangely enough, Webster, the advocate of “old English” has a name pronounced just as it sounds, while Worcester, the rebel, should rightfully be spelled Woster under the system he invented.

Sometimes two older words are shortened and combined, such as motel for motor-hotel, or minibus for miniature omnibus. Clearly, language evolves in proportion to the new objects, new experiences and new ideas that its users need to express.

More foreign schools teach English as a second language than any other. It is the speech of aviation, extra-terrestrial investigation, science, diplomacy and business.

In short, the history of the English language is a reflection of the commercial and cultural history of invaders. It can be clearly traced back to Sanskrit, Persian (Iran), Greek and Latin roots. Thus, living English results from a borrowing, blending and culling of words from many ancient sources. English is destined to become the world language of My choice because of its streamlined efficiency or responsiveness to the stimuli of evolution.

Third among the world's languages is Russian. Then in order come Spanish, Hindustani, Arabic, Portuguese, Bengali, German, Japanese, French and Italian. At the present time, Italy is debating whether or not to abolish Italian as its principle language. Upperclass Italians have already made this move.

Nevertheless, the steamy essence of Universal Law cannot be understood by words alone. Pictures and symbols, projected from the central magnetic hub, stretch to the outer darkness of the primordial void. Throughout history, a few outstanding men and women, receptive to the prevailing vibe, rise beyond normal mortal limitations to capture the mood of the future. They try to pass this along to others, insofar as words can describe. Parables are the best way to get the message across. Discernment of the esoteric meaning is then left up to the capacity of the recipient.

Before literacy abounded, the mystery play was the means by which the common man received his spiritual education. From the very earliest times, watching these plays was a big religious event. Rich and poor, nobles and slaves, local and visiting tribes, everyone was invited. Only the names have been changed from age to age. The mystery play simply represents the evolution of the spirit and process of atonement. It can be likened to water, in the steam to ice cube process.

The fluid mystery play, when further crystallized into the ice cube trays of alphabet, became captured firmly in matter for all generations to grasp. Less adulteration of physical thought occurs over the years when words are passed along in written form. The whim and personality of the players are less obvious. Thus, the parallel rise of people and language is a key point in understanding the evolution of Universal Law.

Like language, Cosmic Law is not static. It represents the orderly manifestation of perfection. It provides cognitive consistency spanning dimension, time and space, allowing growth and stability to coincide. Thus energy and matrix move together in orderly progression towards the ultimate goal of "Thy Kingdom Come. Thy Will be done on Earth as it is in Heaven".

When the galaxy containing Earth came before My Focus of attention, all the planetary bodies contained therein came under a bombardment of light energy.

I AM THE PRECEDENT

Words formed the meld to express in symbolic pictures the goals of alignment between Heaven and Earth. This process follows a relentless course towards atonement. Gradually that which was seen through a glass darkly, becomes clear, 'till we meet face to face.

I AM The Precedent

Earth too is like a child. Her history portrays eons of spiritual evolution

My Will precedes the manifestation of every form of life in the Universe. In My Yin aspect, I AM the Matrix, the original blueprint for galactic systems, planets, gods, animals, plants, atoms. In My Yang aspect, I AM the life energy force which animates the whole. The magnetic attraction between these male-female aspects provides the joy which gives meaning to creation.

The Heavenly Host, working as Yin-Yang particles attuned to My consciousness, transform spirals of intelligent life energy in much the same way as do electrical transformers. They tone the energy down to a usable frequency, and relay it to the furthest reaches of My Dominion.

Concentric circles of Earth history ring the planet. All this sea of misspent emotional energy must be clarified now that we are approaching the end of time. Language will change as the thoughts of men change to accommodate their purified perspective. Words like hate, war, distrust, pollution will gradually become obsolete. Terms to express ascending degrees of consciousness, light ecstasy and awe will come into being.

Throughout the ages, man's degree of consciousness has been proportionate to his capacity to focus on Me. The right words help. Each age, each epoch, each generation has had the opportunity to play its part towards the enlightenment or darkening of collective mortal consciousness. I AM The Light, illuminating new areas of potential growth since the beginning of time.

CHAPTER 5 - I AM UNIVERSAL LAW

I AM THE PRECEDENT

A synopsis of the curriculum and progress of an age is reflected in tales of the times. The Book of the Dead, The Illiad and The Odyssey, Dante's Inferno, Pilgrim's Progress, Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, and Charles Kingsley's Water Babies are some good examples. The medieval story of King Arthur and the Knights of the Round table is another typical instance. These men sought the Holy Grail, the symbolic bowl which Jesus used at the last supper and which Joseph of Arimathea used to collect drops of his blood at the crucifixion. This spiritual chalice had disappeared because its former keepers became morally impure. The quest of the gallant Knights of the Round Table was to regain that lost element of perfect purity.

Literature and legend reflecting the particular wave of emotional energy animating an era is a far more reliable guide to Earth's spiritual history than dry factual data and church records. Each troubadour, artist, poet, writer, bard, has a piece to place in the reflective tapestry of human evolution.

A god-child learns to reciprocate Love through a series of expanding emotional relationships. Earth, too, is like a child. Her history portrays eons of spiritual evolution. Today, even the elementary bands of Nature and antinature are poised in anticipation. Their capacity for increased consciousness is linked up to the total deliverance of man and the planet from the dark-ness which presently dulls the brilliant panorama of how life really is.

Earth, and her retinue of elemental workers sense the intervention is close. Soon She will be able to take her place among the planets of light which monitor planetary activities in a vast galactic network of expanding enlightenment.

CHAPTER 5 - I AM UNIVERSAL LAW

THE TESTING GROUND

Many theatres of operation combine to simultaneously produce the macro-micro tapestry constantly being woven to conclusion. I provide the web which the workmen use as an outline to fill in the picture.

Earth ages are designed to allow a certain lesson in spiritual evolution to be assimilated into planetary consciousness. This provides a base or stepping stone on which to place the next forward step in the human growth pattern. Writers crystallize and consolidate the goals. Those men who have been able to assimilate the curriculum of their age earn the opportunity to participate in further waves of evolution.

This explains the present incarnation of Atlanteans and other noble ancients, often with partially intact memory of former identity trappings. They come to claim their heritage in the final chapters of Earth history. Quite rightly, it may be said that a stairway to heaven has been carved out by the scribes and saints, those who have overcome. All of these are now incarnate and aware of what must be.

The Testing Ground

Earth is the testing ground wherein I try the ultimate alchemy of taking a clay meld and, from this crude substance, fashioning men into immortal gods. As with the medieval knights, each life is designed to provide a perfect testing ground. The circumstance and the timing of events are always right.

Take for example the recent case of young men born and educated in the United States of America. Each had some religious background. Then came the war in Vietnam. Thousands of young men, the cream of the crop in terms of physical and mental health and good education, were required to participate. Training camps, designed to totally dehumanize any but the most staunch spiritual being, fashioned these young men into killers and torturers of women, children and aged civilians. All this to the tune of the United States Marine Corps March, they symbol of social acceptability and American masculinity at its best.

Someone in the C.I.A., far removed from the battlefield, someone with manicured fingernails and suave sophistication, conceived Operation Phoenix. This was a plan of systematic genocide, cruel and merciless beyond description, inexcusable by any remote logic of wartime strategy. This plan was carried out.

Today these young soldiers are Vietnam veterans. A high percentage are imprisoned for social crimes, and even more live permanently in psychiatric hospitals. They gather together in groups desperately trying to resolve their guilt, to once more become acceptable members of American Society.

THE TESTING GROUND

It is interesting to speculate which is the main concern, social acceptance or spiritual purification. The generals, the presidents, the secretaries and high ranking C.I.A. agents don't seem to be nearly so bothered by conscience, though they are equally guilty. But their social life is less affected.

If you were a spirit striving with flesh — would you really want to maintain contact, and proudly wear the identity banner of an ex-soldier or marine in these circumstances? Certainly all cases are assessed individually. This illustration just presents Spirit's point of view. But the odds are pretty slim that any of these people will salvage sufficient identity core to make this Earth-round a worthwhile remembrance.

“But Lord”, you might say, “was it really the fault of these young men? Were they not just pawns in a bigger game of politics, powerless to break away?”

No. Each man is judged individually according to his fruit. They were in sin, in violation of several clear-cut commandments, particularly in this case, the second: “Thou shalt not bow down to any graven image”, and the seventh: “Thou shalt not commit adultery”. No man can serve two masters. No one can be loyal to two propositions at the same time. When you are in love with Me and My Creation nothing else can come between. Fornicating with the devil, doing its work, is something I cannot tolerate. Insofar as you do it unto the least of these, you have done it unto Me.

In whose name were these crimes committed? Who is this harlot, this United States of America, that her laws command greater respect than My Law? Time and time again, I have seen good men dashed down in the sea of nationalistic fervour. What is so noble about dying for one's country? Is the need for acceptance by Society so much more important than the need to be acceptable to God? How much better to live, fight and, if necessary, die for My Cause, Freedom and Love for all.

“Either make the tree good, and his fruit good; or else make the tree corrupt, and his fruit corrupt, for the tree is known by his fruit.”

I AM The Laws

During his brief sojourn on this glittering little planet, man is governed by three sets of laws. As harmony is the key note of successful living in any dimension, man does well to abide by all of these laws, unless the lesser conflicts with the higher law. These are, in ascending scales of priority, the Law of Society, the Law of Nature, the Law of Spirit.

(1) The Law of Society

When the tribes of Israel first began to spread out and cover the Earth, each tribe began to evolve a series of rules to govern social conduct, for the purpose of organization and conformity.

These social laws were based on a common Golden Rule of conduct, certain hygienic natural laws which had been discovered, and useful political and practical considerations.

For example, in hot countries, worms that were detrimental to human health were found in pork. Some tribes forbade the eating of pork, while others, in even hotter climates, became vegetarians. Others, to help out an impoverished fishing industry, insisted that fish alone be eaten each Friday, the day the fresh catch came in.

Others, under the guidance of Mohammed, had multiple wives. This represented a tremendous advantage to women, saving the lives of many unwanted girl babies who would have died on the dung-heap when their commercial value was less than the cost of raising them to maturity. It also afforded legal protection for surplus women, who, prior to Mohammed's intervention, had no rights whatsoever.

One can only appreciate the value of present day laws when viewed in contrast with the appalling injustice (particularly towards the weaker members of society) rampant after the fall of Atlantis, before a firm standard of new social laws was formulated.

While today's social laws are by no means perfect they do afford protection and uphold basic human rights. It is better for man to uphold the law, regardless of its inadequacies, than to support in any small way the forces of anarchy and disruption of organized justice. But this can be done only insofar as these do not offend the Law of Love.

Social law varies according to culture. For example, in some very well organized systems, it is perfectly legitimate to kiss your grandmother goodbye and watch her paddle out to sea, in order not to become a social burden on the clan. In other systems, the aged are venerated as being particularly wise and useful.

Many attend church in obedience to social pressures. Ladies cover or uncover various portions of their anatomy according to social decree. The advertising media directs its efforts to creating a desirable self-image by the liberal use of its products.

Anyone who has travelled abroad can readily see how quaint and often absurd are the social customs of others. yet fail to see a humorous note in their own system.

Comparatively few openly offend social law. Man has a herding instinct. The need for acceptance by society is a powerful deterrent. Peers are quick to punish with ostracism, severe criticism, incarceration, or even execution, according to the degree of the offence.

“When in Rome do as the Romans do” is good advice, just so long as men render unto Caesar that which is Caesar’s, and to God that which is God’s.

(2) The Law of Nature

The Law of Nature, with Its Yin-Yang component antinature, is meticulously exacting, far more so than most people realize. Truly in picking a daisy, one disturbs a star.

Man has always delighted in pitting his wits against The Law of Nature, trying to discover her secrets, manipulate her processes, circumvent her judgements. He calls it technology. Too often it is a case of fools rushing in where angels fear to tread.

Nature’s retribution may be slower in manifesting than the swift reflex of social law, but her methods are exceedingly sure.

Take for example, the costly and increasingly sophisticated techniques of modern medicine. In highly advanced societies, millions of dollars and countless units of thought energy are deployed in trying to save a relatively few sick people with complex diseases of genetic origin. These diseases could have long since been eliminated by simple sterilization procedures, but Super-ego sympathy prevails.

On the other hand, wars skim the cream of the crop of natural human fathers. This happens generation after generation. The fit die young, while weaklings procreate.

This is outright defiance of natural law, a sin visited on all children in all generations thenceforth.

Meanwhile, physicians ignore global dangers like pollution, stress, food additives, arms races, D.D.T. residues, civil unrest, ion depletion, and serious nutritional hazards which deplete whole civilizations.

For a person without a passionate desire of My Whole Person, I recommend a love affair with Mother Nature is nobody's fool. She bares her bosom willingly to nourish all. Rather than sup in gratitude and husband with deep respect, rather than co-operation and a sense of awe at the magnitude of her wisdom, man has chosen to rape.

Ego and Super-ego are the culprits. Ego, failing to distinguish between a man's needs and his wants, creates an ever-growing imbalance in human rights. This leads to excesses which are always self-destructive to individuals and nations alike.

Super-ego, in using sickly sentimentality as a substitute for Spirit's capacity for love, truth and wisdom, goads men into outrageous expenditures on a few selected challenges, while ignoring the plight of many. By gaining access to the semantics of Spiritual Law, Super-ego translates this into its own version of "right". It likes to imagine that by imitating the words it becomes "good". It is unable to accept its own limitations as subservient, rather than superior to the forces of nature, which is, of course, absurd.

The forces of Nature and antinature are not passive, but highly active and intelligent. They operate within an entirely different frame of reference to human thought. Time is irrelevant when goals may extend over hundreds of generations to achieve an objective.

The stream of consciousness allocated to the natural bands is however, elemental. This means it flows unobstructed like a river along a predesignated course. If the human race could behold the strength and purpose behind natural law and learn to flow with it, rather than divert its course to narrow applications of personal interest, man would receive undreamed of benefits.

For a person without a passionate desire for My Whole Person, I recommend a love affair with Nature. She is a bountiful mistress in a brief encounter, a warm, tender companion for the troubled heart, perhaps even a stepping stone to greater desire for attunement.

(3) The Law of Spirit

Gazing skywards from the prairies on a clear night, a man sees as much of the universe as an amoeba sees of the ocean in which it floats. The few thousand visible stars are as a single drop of water in the boundless ocean of My Being. Such is the inheritance of gods. Such is the territory governed by Spiritual Law.

When man was selected from among the beasts of the jungle to host the Divine Spark, he became subject to a new law, the law of eternal life. The word religion conveys this symbol.

Religion is as old as man himself. It introduces a force more powerful than emotional comprehension may presently grasp. In all cases it has been given gradually, with patient understanding of human frailty, to every person on the Planet.

Even the most isolated primitive societies have deep-rooted spiritual traditions going back to the beginning of time. The forward march of civilization has been inspired by feelings of religious faith. Even today ideology is the major influential factor in conflict, contest and conquest among Earth's peoples.

Among current religious beliefs, Christianity now has the most adherents. More than a billion people look to the Son of Man for Salvation, and the long-promised dawn of a New Earth Era.

Like languages, ideologies and religious ideas can remain relatively static over the ages, or they can evolve according to the intermingling of adherents and the spiritual power animating the matrix.

Christianity, a direct offshoot of the Atlantean Culture, is a blending of many ancient and modern beliefs. It has borrowed and culled more than any other religion to earn its present spiritual seniority.

CHAPTER 5 - I AM UNIVERSAL LAW

I AM THE LAWS

Most of the world's religions, in common with Christianity, contain prophecies about the end of time

Islam is next in numerical strength, with a total of 528 million followers. Then comes Hinduism with 477 million; Confucianism with 305 million; Buddhism with 267 million; Shintoism with 60 million; Taoism with 52 million; Judaism with 14 million. The list continues with innumerable minor religious beliefs. This leaves no one on Earth without access to some kind of faith, or an ideology to follow.

Ideologies, in their pure original form, are spiritual concepts wrung from the emotion of a soul's longing for a better way of life. The atheist who gives his heart, mind, soul and strength to the cause of human welfare is just as liable to stumble upon Me as the devout Catholic. The same spirit animates all progressive ideas. The Law of Spirit applies equally to all men.

Most of the world's religions, in common with Christianity, contain prophecies about the end of time, and the great day of judgment which is to come.

Through their common Atlantean, Egyptian, Judaic roots, Islam, Christianity, and many other religions trace man's origin back to the time when he was first chosen to receive the gift of free will, and to how man then became subject to Spiritual Law.

Before receiving the gift of Spirit, man was a straightforward creature governed only by his animal instincts. The advent of I AM sparked eons of conflict as Spirit and beast struggled for supremacy within the cocoon of mortality.

Spiritual Law contains the secrets of success for those who seek eternal life. It is a synopsis of love, truth and wisdom wherein man can reconcile his warring nature and align with the Infinite recourses of Mind.

CHAPTER 5 - I AM UNIVERSAL LAW

I AM THE LAWS

The external man is the product of his internal, or esoteric way of being. Conflict between the inner and outer man is hell. (Unless, weary of futile effort, the command “My Spirit shall not always strive with man in that he is flesh” has already been fulfilled and the battle is already lost.)

Eternal life depends on finding the god-self within, even while wrestling with the illusion of separation

Alignment between the esoteric and exoteric components is heaven. Some prefer the word atonement. Being in atonement means arriving at that point where perfect harmony between inner thought and outer action is achieved. This is the object of a

In the beginning was the word, the blueprint, the concept of manifest perfection. And the word was with God and the word was God — herein My Yin aspect. As My Spirit, Yang, moved to animate the matrix, light and love flooded the blueprint. Life began. And the light shineth in darkness: and the darkness comprehendeth it not.

When I AM, the free-willed magnetic particles of My burning tip of conscious awareness, were first broadcast into mortality, they were inexperienced. They had the choice of exploring either the internal or external worlds, or both. At first, the outer attractions of survival, sex and sensation took precedence, ‘till shallow repetition palled the eager appetite. Desire now arose for some- thing more. There was need to present a simple set of guidelines for all to read direct.

The Ten Words, or Commandments as they are called on Earth today, are clearly understandable Yin-Yang components. They were symbolically presented when Moses reached the summit of the mountain of consciousness. He then descended back to the physical plane bringing with him two solid stone tablets. Thus, the higher essence of law was crystallized for others in concrete word form. From henceforth all generations had access to the semantics of Spiritual Law.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

The first tablet deals with attitudes. It prescribes an inner way of being which ensures the adherent maximum return on his right investment of life-energy.

The second tablet shows the external manifestation that results from a life of internal harmony.

The Ten Words are broad enough to have deep esoteric significance for the enlightened student. The full force of Light would only blow fuses if applied in toto. In this sense, the words are just a dull echo of the power they represent. Discerning more and more of the esoteric significance is ecstasy to the spirit, even while the outer man struggles to obey the surface level implications.

Today's reader should bear in mind the improvement of consciousness and conditions which have taken place since the Ten Words were first crystallized into form. Rules and prohibitions are for children. A child cannot reason so must learn first to trust and obey. This is the initial step in the ladder of ascending consciousness. The mature-minded have discovered that law preserves rather than restrains individual liberties. Spiritual Law acts to unify and protect the whole.

Every man who takes the inner voyage finds that the spirit of the law is indeed the essence of his own inner being.

The Ten Commandments

- 1. I AM The Lord Thy God, who leads you out of the animal kingdom, out of the house of puppets. Thou shalt have none other Gods before Me.*
- 2. Thou shalt not take unto thee any graven image, flag, badge, religious or nationalistic symbol, ideology. Thou shalt not align with external goals nor worship them. This leads to division and conflict among individuals and nations. Men become blind when they turn away from the light, away from the right use of life energy. Thus they walk in the shadow of death, even to Belsen, Hiroshima, Siberia and Mei Li.*

CHAPTER 5 - I AM UNIVERSAL LAW

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

- 3. Speak My Name with respect. Appreciate the active power for good My Name invokes. Profanity admits inadequacy. It is symbolic destruction of the god within. It raises an impregnable barrier between man's consciousness and his god-spark. It creates agonies of remorse. Words are but words, but the emotions they generate preclude real communication between us. This cuts man off from the water of life and leads to death.*

My law is perfect my timing is perfect

Communication is vital, not just on the Sabbath but on an every day basis. The purpose of keeping the seventh day Holy goes way beyond this objective. I AM Wholeness. Integration, Light. I AM the source of all power, the sole sustenance of the Universe I renew and restore.

The expansion of consciousness is directly related to a man's capacity to contemplate I AM. Eternal life depends on finding the god-self within, even while wrestling with the illusion of separation.

However hard and long a man might labour in the external world, it avails him naught unless the spirit within is quickened. The veils of illusion quickly close unless a determined effort is made to part them regularly. I have set before you an open door which no man can close save the lower self.

CHAPTER 5 - I AM UNIVERSAL LAW

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

The Yin-Yang law of action and being is fundamental to all living things. Biology recognizes rest and motion as the two great rules of physical life. This applies equally to body and mind, as well as to spiritual matters.

It is important that Sunday (central Sun focus day) be the common Sabbath for all men. This brings into play the multifold benefits of composite mind in action. It cleans the entire planet of divisory thoughts bringing all I AM's together in a great concentrated collective enlightenment. Polarization is then possible. All present forms of worship on Earth originate in Sun worship. This is rightly so. When man emerged from the ice-age to bask in the warmth and life-giving energy of the Sun, he was grateful. From that time forward, man has looked to the sky for guidance and has not been disappointed.

Beyond the Sabbath is the Sabbatical year. This is a must for those who truly seek salvation. Time is running Out. Do not delay. The hands of Earth's time clock are at one minute to midnight. Time and tide wait for no man.

The world teaches how to make a living. False gods and a score of inner voices urge caution, hesitation, compromise, procrastination, even the acceptance of defeat. Put them behind. The I AM Sabbatical teaches how to Live. It is My wish that all should be saved and not one lost. I feel for all, even the sparrow that falls to the ground in the winter storm. Even so, I AM Law.

The Sabbatical Year was at one time a source of tremendous strength and renewal, both for the individuals and nations who practiced it. It was particularly observed in every seventh year by those who taught or led others. It is a time to break free of programmed limitations and release the great inner power of your own polarized I AM.

This above all to thine own self be true

Remember the Sabbath day and the Sabbatical Year. Keep them for holiness and wholeness.

inferiority are replaced with self-respect and a sense of value in saying I AM.

The type of genetic inheritance you have received is in exact accord with your ultimate role. It is designed to provide the type of challenge your own spirit needs for its personal victory. My Law is Perfect. My Timing is Perfect.

Honour thy father and thy mother, that thy days may be long in the land of consciousness which the Lord Thy God giveth thee. Symbolically, your parents have provided you with the “ark of the covenant”, the cocoon of mortality through which the law may be made manifest.

- 6. Thou shalt not kill. For truly it is written that, inso- far as you do it unto the least of these, you do it unto I AM.*

When a man looks inward, he sees unity. He truly experiences the togetherness of all things.

This commandment, like all the others, must be discerned according to the spirit of the law. Kill, in this sense, also means hurt.

Insofar as lower life on the planet is concerned, I have given you every good thing in season. Yours is the free will to husband in wisdom and respect. I AM more concerned with the manner of your taking rather than the act. Death holds no fear for plants and lower animals. Fear, pain, senseless brutality,

CHAPTER 5 - I AM UNIVERSAL LAW

needless waste, over- crowding for greed, improper care — these are the sins.

My people have demonstrated over and over again how the well-treated animal that dies painlessly goes willingly to slaughter. Yes, even in joy. They take no more than needed, respectfully process every scrap of food. They sup in gratitude.

Thoughts are real. Cruel, unconcerned, destructive thoughts registered in the aura are automatically self- destructive. For the law says as ye act so shall ye be acted upon.

Each person has the right to resolve his own dilemma. Ego likes to look at others for weakness and error to avoid the awful task of seeing self. Each embryonic god struggles with its own illusion. Negative reactions and judgment only complicate matters, unless you are perchance perfect and prepared to cast the first stone.

Collective intervention by society to protect its members is legitimate. Correction rather than punishment should be emphasized.

But above all, kill not thine own higher self. Long before psychology was separately classified, scholars knew the Bible as a masterful reference work of psychological drama. The dual nature of man is best portrayed in the story of Cain and Abel.

The inner man, Abel, shows deference to the Divine Will. Cain, representing self will and human reasoning, invariably overcomes, thus robbing his brother of his birthright, even as the loud call to physical goals so often drowns out the soft voice of spiritual wisdom.

CHAPTER 5 - I AM UNIVERSAL LAW

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

Thou Shalt Not Kill I AM.

7. Thou shalt not commit adultery.

A house divided unto itself will surely fall. The literal meaning of this seventh commandment is obvious to all. People who find marriage restricting do so because their own inner life is restricted. Lacking self-esteem, they find relief in promiscuity.

But now look at the inner meaning of the term adultery. Once you have set your mind on something, be single-minded. If the goal is God, then thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, all thy mind, all thy soul and with all thy strength. There really is no alternative if you seek atonement.

Adultery takes many forms — pulling half your mind to your job yet expecting full pay for your labours; going to church and looking around to note what others are doing; paying lip service to My Word while ignoring the Spirit of The Law; calling yourself a Christian while living a self-centered existence.

“This above all. To thine own self be true. Thou canst not then be false to any man.” Be faithful. Even if you cannot always understand, accept the fact that My Law is Perfect. Once you see the faintest pinpoint of light, hang on. Say “Get thee behind me Satan” to all doubts and fears. Super-ego will try its best to confuse you, for it has not the eyes to see. Never let go once you have found the right direction.

particular group. Come out from this adultery, My People. See beyond.

Misplaced religious and national loyalties have always been the most powerful collective adulteration of the god-focus on Earth. What heavenly support do men really deserve when, just off to war, they suddenly decide to check in for a little assistance from the Heavenly Host. This farce is usually accompanied by fervent recitation of The Lord's Prayer....."Forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive them that trespass against us. Lead us not into temptation; deliver us from evil." A bit ludicrous don't you think?

National and regional loyalties, particularly when cemented by a common denominational programming, reflect the Devil. Super-ego, at its maximum appropriation. Religious and ideological viewpoints are but microdots in the whole panorama of Being.

Men are individuals. Each must find his own way. The way is always above and beyond any single interpretation. Even as stated in The Jewish Holy Book, the Kabbalah:

"O my soul. If you desire to inherit heavenly gifts, it is not only necessary, as our first patriarch did, to abandon the land you inhabit, that is to say, your body, the family you were born in, that is to say, the senses; and the house of your father, or the word; you must also abandon yourself that you may be outside of yourself like those corybants who are intoxicated with divine enthusiasm."

abundance. I have provided ample for all. Conservation is the art of proper management and replacement in such a way that the abundance may continue ad infinitum. All who fail to concern themselves with these matters are guilty of theft from the whole human race.

As with other great classical tales, Mutiny on the Bounty holds a timeless message. Earth is indeed a space ship sailing with the Universal tide. Its life support systems are adequate only if equitably dispensed. Earth captains who commandeer My Bounty for personal profit leave insufficient for the crew. Hence mutiny. To impede the law of flow is to cancel the law of abundance for all. It is yet another aspect of regional and national error which will shortly grind the whole machinery of commerce to a halt.

Evidence of destructive national greed is demonstrated even now in the downfall of many major world economies, particularly the proud affluence of North America. The feeling of satisfaction that arises from a job well done, fair play for fair wages, seems to be an outmoded morality.

The fall of the dollar is clearly the result of men wanting too much return for too little energy investment. Too many greedy men want a slice off the top. Subsequently, the goods and services produced are so costly they price themselves out of the world markets, to the detriment of every citizen, and indeed every Earthling.

My people have been taught how to truly evaluate commodities. They use two terms — C.E.U., for canned energy unit, that is money, and E.E.U., emotional energy unit, which must be balanced out. Under this system, money can no longer be the cause for theft.

CHAPTER 5 - I AM UNIVERSAL LAW

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

Self-love involves a deep down enjoyment in being your-self. It is a jewel that no one else can either give, or take away from you. It is true wealth.

Self-love cannot coincide with disrespect either for self or another. Conscious will not permit inner peace until cognitive consistency reigns between the inner and outer man, unless the asphyxiation process is complete, as it now is in many cases.

Until this alignment is complete it is of little use to become involved with worldly causes. Motivation must be pure, otherwise it is doubtful that any solution may be viewed with total objectivity and solutions found to be in the best interests of all.

- 9. My promise to mankind is that the truth shall make you free — free of the laws of sin and death. Conversely, lies imprisonment, sealing the I AM into the vault of its own hell as lie by lie, brick by brick, the light of truth is blocked out from the mind until no glimmer of light remains.*

False witness goes beyond lies. It is a subtle way of discrediting, even killing, another person by word rather than by deed. It is the coward's way of justifying his own inadequacy. False witness entangles the consciousness in a foul quicksand, dragging it ever down-ward into a vortex of confusion from which there is no escape.

False witness, like other mortal frailties, is a two-edged sword. Having turned outward to smite others, Super-ego then turns inward to deliver self-punishment.

After the outer manifestation is complete, Super-ego dons the garb of Prosecutor. It turns fiercely to start brow-beating the weak identity with guilt complexes. Calling upon its understanding of the words of the law, it now begins a masquerade of religious expertise.

From a self image of angel of light or mini saint, (the Lucifer Complex), like a wolf in sheep's clothing, the phase of accusation begins. Super-ego, calling upon all its programmed recourses, now delivers a monologue about being a terrible sinner, of having displeased God and wronged its fellow man.

Then comes the false repentance or woe-is-me phase. Waves of self-condemnation, remorse, inadequacy, self pity, inferiority, even "let's put an end to it all", wash over the condemned consciousness. The overall effect is utter exhaustion. Magnification and minimization of astounding magnitude often accompany this witness. All focus is on the dark side of the coin and not a ray of hope shines anywhere.

Once all this wallowing is complete, phase three begins. Unable to bear all this burden, Super-ego, lifting the weak identity like a child in its strong arms, switches to support and justification. I AM portrayed as a big stick God intent on crushing all opposition.

This triad of prosecution, condemnation, justification (P.C.J.) becomes an endlessly repetitive noose around the I AM. "Play it again Sam" is the term we use when the same old P.C.J. tape gets repeated, time and time again.

Decide now. No more half truths, no more magnification or minimization of facts to distort truth to make it fit in with Super-ego programming. Cling to truth as you would a life jacket on a raging ocean, for truth is indeed a spiritual life jacket.

CHAPTER 5 - I AM UNIVERSAL LAW

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

Accept the possibility that your version of truth is best tested by being bounced against another's beliefs. Each may then temper the other's opinion. There is nothing to lose save error. My truth can withstand all adversaries. The truth-loving person is always open-minded and willing to learn. He seeks to clarify even fine shadings of discoloration which may obscure the perfect light. Never lie knowingly — if you don't know, don't bluff. Just state outright that you are unsure but willing to consider many propositions.

Thoughts are real. If based in truth, they spring into the aura like straight filaments of light, so lighting the way of the voyageur on the Earth plane, revealing the next step on the homeward path, bestowing strength.

Furthermore, they help enlighten the way of others. Lies contaminate everything they touch, adding to confusion and darkness of the planet.

In past ages, when the human consciousness was not fully unfolded, half truths, or even small portions of truth, received support if they were seen to further the overall goals of the curriculum of an era.

These are the times quoted by St. Paul in his epistle: 1 - Chapter 13:9 - 12.

9. For we know in part, and we prophesy in part.

10. But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away.

CHAPTER 5 - I AM UNIVERSAL LAW

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

11. When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child: but when I became a man, I put away childish things.

12. For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known.

Live, love and Laugh

The new truth vibe is established. From henceforth support only WHOLE TRUTH and nothing but the truth in this generation. Look back over the last decade of Earth's history at the shocking political and business scandals. We are just beginning the countdown.

Discredit no one. Be sure before you speak. Think before you act. Stay within the spirit of the law. Avoid fancy footwork with words that imply untruths. Love truth. Be whole.

10 Live, love and laugh. This phase reflects a single minded state of spiritual consciousness which pervades all thought and activity. It invokes the law of putting life energy to right use so that it is multiplied.

CHAPTER 5 - I AM UNIVERSAL LAW

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

With practice, well-motivated thought and action align without problem, hitting the desired target with the force of an arrow from a bow. The cybernetics factor is activated. Emotion and action align.

The person who deals positively and vigorously with each new challenge multiplies both his talents and his self-esteem plus an ever widening range of potential. He takes what he needs from the life-stream, letting the rest flow on to replenish his neighbour.

This is true wealth, the richness of a full identity and ever growing self-respect. Only in this way can a man keep his wealth for all eternity.

Covetousness has exactly the opposite result. It robs a man of maximum growth potential, leaving him un-coordinated and impoverished in mind and soul. It holds him in a vicious, ever narrowing circle of bondage. Ego is insatiable. Its wants are its substitutes for self-love.

Wanting things and experiences, rather than working towards solid goals of basic need, usually begins in adolescence. This is particularly so if parents replace love with physical objects when nourishing their young. Love starvation leads to a life of fantasy with ego the constant companion. The victim is caught in a shell of illusion which reflects the unreal. With every repeat of an ineffectual longing cycle, the ability to act forcefully becomes more severely impaired. Covetousness then replaces wanting, as the restricted identity is twisted and turned to ego's illegitimate ends to gain its objectives.

CHAPTER 5 - I AM UNIVERSAL LAW

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

conscious awareness of the I AM identity. I AM can only be occupied with one or the other at a given time.

Super-ego is self-righteous. Since the beginning of time, it has plied knowledge as a substitute for vibe, as demonstrated by the serpent — symbol of cleverness in the Garden of Eden. It would persuade man that Knowledge is good, when God alone is good. It would persuade man that there are shortcuts. These, if taken, lead only to dead ends and the cul-de-sac of spiritual stagnation.

Super-ego covets that which rightly belongs to Me. It seeks to enthrone itself as Light, while incapable of living in light.

But time is running out. The truth-vibe pushes hard against the crumbling fabric of Super-ego manufacture. The unfoldment of Spiritual Law draws to its conclusion.

Come, wander with Me through Earth history to see the sewing and the reaping. Understand why I allow the wheat and the tares to flourish together until the fields are white with harvest.

CHAPTER 6 - I AM UNFOLDMENT

I AM Objective

How conveniently predictable it would be if, like man, I was simply the product of genetics and environment.

Mankind insists on building a god-concept based on Super-ego expectations which are slightly different in every case. Sometimes men get quite angry when their image is ruffled. I favour no special creed, ideology or nation. I always act in the best interests of all, furthering the progressive unfoldment of Spiritual Law.

Throughout the ages the mandate to blazon the banner of truth has passed from one civilization to another. I seek the meek. The rise of any nation depends on how responsive it is to the wave of spiritual stimuli currently animating the planet.

From My viewpoint at the Central Hub I observe the development of vibe-response, the incoming tide of new ideas. Then I watch the inevitable encroachment of Super-ego's likes and dislikes, and the tide goes out.

Nevertheless, I uphold a decadent system until the current spiritual goal has been achieved. Then the outdated matrix, or carrier of the vibe, can be broken like a matchstick. I have a new meld, a new carrier developed, ready to set in place. Viti Lampada.

My promise to the faithful is that the truth shall make you free -free of the laws of sin and death.

Truth is constant. It is man's capacity to absorb more complete pictures of truth that changes.. It is as if every microdot of truth is like a baby, attached to a placenta.

CHAPTER 6 - I AM UNFOLDMENT

RELIGION LIVES, MOVES, GROWS

Detaching one from the other, without delaying the growth of the infant, is quite a fine art.

This is done by the Heavenly Host, which works as one mind to salvage truth from the miasmatic swamp of Super-ego additions and subtractions. It exposes the destructible and upholds the in-destructible. This can best be seen in retrospect.

Religion Lives, Moves, Grows

Religion, like language, lives, moves and grows. Like its tongues. Eastern religions have remained relatively static over the ages. Western thought, culminating in what is now labelled Christianity, has borrowed, blended and culled the best of many basic beliefs.

The unfoldment of Spiritual Law parallels the story of Earth's climate and history. Evolution began gradually, gaining steady momentum, then rapid acceleration once many coordinates were aligned. Observe the yin-yang interplay of heat and cold thrust and consolidation, action and being in human growth patterns.

As the ice receded, men began to move around. Europeans emerged as barbaric warriors. They had learned to live with the cunning and ferocity of the beasts they hunted for food and clothing. Hard action for survival led to strong ego development, a predatory driving force which remains to this day.

Yet Adam, depicted as naked in the Garden of Eden, had the most favourable habitat for "being". He could bask in the sun. It is easy to see how Sun worship rightfully became the basis for man's understanding of I AM.

The formalization of Sun worship began in Atlantis where My identity garment, Loliad-R-Kahn, lived some 9,000 years ago. He was born in a place called Khe, the being or passive country on the continent of Atlantis. The spiritual leader in those days was called Rai (R, Re, Ra, Ray). This symbol depicts the emanations of the sun and its gift of life to Planet Earth.

I uphold a decadent system until the current spiritual goal has been achieved. Then the outdated matrix, a carrier of the vibe, can be broken like a matchstick

CHAPTER 6 - I AM UNFOLDMENT

RELIGION LIVES, MOVES, GROWS

Loliad described a growing imbalance in being and action aspects of life, culminating in the fall of the civilized world in a great holocaust. Atlanteans (like all men in all nations at all times) were sharply divided on the subject of right and wrong use of life energy. Prior to the holocaust many had gone around to establish settlements. They sunburst out in all directions. Some went to Persia, where Ra became Mithra. Others discovered Central America and eventually laid the basis of distinguished Mayan and Inca cultures. Others went to Egypt where they established a great civilization. In each settlement the development of hieroglyphics and cuneiform allowed continuity of conscious growth of spiritual concepts. All these cultures were theocratic, run by a single religious and governmental authority.

Although but a shadowy reflection of the original pyramids of Khe, those in Egypt stand today as monuments to technical prowess unequalled in present society. The originals were not built by manpower. They depicted the knowledge of eternal life in both purity and detail. For this reason they became the burial places of kings, who, aware of the New Earth Era to come, sought to preserve their physical bodies until the final trump was sounded.

The Atlantean disaster caused Mars to be pushed out of orbit. It then swung wildly back and forth causing great upheavals on Earth, as records show. The mountainous peninsula of Greece was born as the continent of Atlantis disintegrated. The legendary tales of angry gods shaking the Earth persist to this day. It was in this area that the next major fusion of action and being people would occur. Wandering European barbarians fought their way through rugged mountain passes to learn about civilization. It was like flint striking stone. Men were set aflame with new ideas. Ra became Helios, the Sun-god. Under his guidance, art, science and philosophy flourished.

Later Mars, passing close to Earth, caused the parting of the Red Sea at the time of Exodus. "The land spins around as does a potter's wheel. That which has never happened has happened", say the records. Law and order broke down completely in Egypt at this time. Tombs were robbed and the priesthood abandoned its ceremonies. This reduced the power of the Pharaoh and a more decentralized system was instituted. Fear spurred the exodus of the Jews.

Keph-A-Ra, Priest of Ra in Egypt at the time of Queen Hatshepsut, picks up the story where Loliad left off. He clearly connects the beliefs of Egypt and Israel. Moses, recipient of the Ten Commandments, was raised as an Egyptian nobleman. He was heavily influenced by this background, though he could also relate to the tribal beliefs of his own people. He represented a modification or blending of two themes.

CHAPTER 6 - I AM UNFOLDMENT

RELIGION LIVES, MOVES, GROWS

Such men, chosen and timed to be special connecting links in the passage of spiritual ideas, see above and beyond prevailing dogmas.

Microdots of spiritual truth are scattered everywhere. Each part of the mosaic of Earth's people has its own special note or flavour to add to the planetary pot pourri. Out of all the complexity of Egyptian religion, Moses established simple guidelines of daily conduct, a practical note for immediate application. He also re-introduced the idea of personal contact between man and I AM. This key original idea had been phased out by a power-hungry Atlantean priesthood. They extracted heavy tribute to act as intercessors, so incurring My Wrath. The great strength of Judaic-Christian beliefs is in its personalized monotheistic theme.

Once the holocaust and its reverberations had subsided, permanent communities were established and agricultural development began in earnest. Initially the Persian settlers, now known as Sumerians, prospered. They built a mature civilization characterized by monumental architecture, advanced agricultural systems, metal and textile industries and a strong urban lifestyle. A six hundred character alphabet (cuneiform) was taught to both male and female scholars.

However, the Atlantean disease persisted. The territory was divided into a system of states each with its own local god. The High Priest was head of both state and church. Interstate wars, based primarily on minor religious differences, were common. And a divided civilization must fall. Biblically speaking, the term Babylon originated here.

But although the Sumerians disappeared as a people, they laid the foundation for the civilization of a larger part of the Near East. They bequeathed scientific and technical knowledge, sound business organization and a valid system of writing to their successors.

Of necessity, the main thrust of Spirit passed into Egypt. Here, areas close to fresh water, such as the Nile delta, were prolific producers and soon there was grain to spare. Urban settlements grew into towns and cities. Commercial activity spread new ideas. Powerful leaders emerged. Differing aspects of The Word inter-mingled, tempering the whole. The “live and let live” attitude got a foothold.

The men and nations who responded most readily to spiritual stimuli received the support of the Heavenly Host, or the Ray which governed the curriculum of an era. From the very earliest times the yin developments of astrology, mapping, architecture, art, mathematics, geometry and philosophy were encouraged. This took place mainly on the islands of Greece, which are in fact outflung remnants of Khe.

The active yang component of trade and commerce was primarily manifested in a virile group of merchant pirates called Phoenicians. They were coaxed into the realization that trading could be just as profitable as piracy. In about 1,000 B.C. they built the City of Carthage on the coast of North Africa. From here they went exploring the rough uncivilized country along the coast of the Western Mediterranean.

When they went on trading expeditions to Greece, they spread the word of lush pasture lands on the remarkable “calf-land” peninsula which they called Vitelliu. The Greeks, ever keen to exploit all avenues of potential wealth, settled in many of these areas. The two cultures became rivals. Meanwhile the yin-yang elements of culture and commerce spread.

Traders visiting Greek cities learned about mathematics. They saw, for the first time, an alphabet for writing down words. And whatever was newly discovered, the Greeks made a word for it. The words Jesus Christ are for example, two titles: Christos, meaning anointed, Iesous meaning saviour. They refer to the spiritual force or Divine Influence which redeems men’s souls. This idea has existed since the beginning of time.

The traders also witnessed the phenomenon of coins being used as a medium for exchange, a remnant of tokens in the old Atlantean custom. They recognized this as a much handier way of transporting their wealth across the ocean. They learned the names of Greek gods. Both groups flourished and began spreading out, coming closer and closer to the interior of the Vitelliu Peninsula.

CHAPTER 6 - I AM UNFOLDMENT

THE RISE OF ROME

The Rise of Rome

And so it came to pass in about 800 B.C. that six prosperous and powerful coastal settlers united to found Rome. These skilled, hard working people, directed by a mysterious priestess Sibyl, who purportedly could speak with the gods, realized that they were under divine guidance. They built dams to drain the marshes, then paved roads to speed up communication, and heavy walls for fortification. Their confidence was supported by a book of prophecy in which Sibyl told the future of the city for more than 800 years. This coincided with the length of Rome's direct influence in planetary evolution.

Cooperation, hard work, unity, conquest, luxury, corruption, separation and disaster followed in ever increasing momentum until the rise and fall of the Roman Empire was complete.

The Romans had gleaned from their neighbours the best of both cultural influences. They represented a further polarization of yin-yang. They also had organized co-operation in collective endeavour. Their prosperity attracted many marauders. Defence tactics became offensive. Eventually this led to their conquest of the peninsula and the sacking of Carthage. Rome was on the march and

Co-operation, hard work, unity, conquest, luxury, orgy, dis- obedience, corruption, separation, and disaster followed in ever increasing momentum until the rise and fall of the Roman Empire was complete.

Meanwhile in about 55 A.D. a Roman citizen of Jewish faith, one Saul of Tarsus, was active in a foreign outpost. He was engaged in settling some minor disruption caused by the followers of a deceased Nazarene agitator. His pursuit took him on the road to Damascus. Here, blinding conversion to Christianity led to imprisonment in Rome and priceless letters of spiritual instruction to his faithful followers.

CHAPTER 6 - I AM UNFOLDMENT

THE RISE OF ROME

In Rome, a succession of emperors both good and bad, and the onslaught of decadent luxury, led to total devastation. A fire, set by the mad Emperor Nero, was blamed on the Christians. This resulted in bloody massacre.

This harsh, unfair treatment prompted a number of Roman nobles to write papers in defence of the Christians. These men became known as the apologists. The most famous was Justin, a young philosopher. He suffered a martyr's death for his efforts.

At this time Christianity was relatively passive. Its followers were loosely organized into local congregations. There had been no central authority since the death of Peter and Paul. Paul's Epistles were the main points of reference. Questions of interpretation were constantly arising. Who was Christ? Was he man or God? Bitter divisive arguments arose as various opinions were challenged.

The Roman Empire was divided, with one ruler for the East and one for the West. Mithraism was the main religion, brought in from Persia by returning soldiers. It was particularly favoured by slaves, merchants and soldiers. Mithraism had established many basic beliefs and rituals, such as the ideals of humility and brotherly love, the right of communion, the use of holy water, the adoration of the shepherds at Mithra's birth on December 25, the adoption of Sunday as the Sabbath, belief in the immortality of the soul, the last judgment and resurrection. Its major weaknesses were the exclusion of women from religious ceremonies and its willingness to compromise with polytheism — that is the concept in which many divinities have various specialized roles to play in human affairs; much like saints in modern Catholicism.

Isis too had many followers. She was the daughter of Keb and Nut, Earth and Sky, sister-wife of Osiris, judge of the dead, mother of Horus, god of day. She was most popular with the more scholarly Romans, who doubtless enjoyed the complexity of Egyptian rites and customs.

Both political and religious turmoil resulted from this three way division of the population (less than one fifth were Christian, but these were mighty and vociferous). Something had to be done to unite the country.

Enter the pagan Emperor Constantine, activist and political genius. Under his influence a council was called at Nicaea in May 325 A.D. to which all the bishops of the Empire were invited. The object was to consolidate the Empire with a common religious viewpoint to be hammered out among the contestants. Mithraism was in disfavour as many proud Roman princes had died in Persian wars. Isis was past her prime. The resultant Christianity was a masterful compromise of all religious opinions of the day. And you can be sure I had My finger in the pie, too.

Sun Worship

*Sun worship rightfully became the basis for man's understanding of
I AM*

Sun worship involves astrological symbology. In all ages, when the sun enters a cardinal sign, solstices and equinoxes are celebrated as religious festivals. Thus December 25th is the common birth date for gods: Horus, Krishna, Mithra, Dionysus, Tammaz-Adonis. It was not adopted as the birth date for Christ until A.D. 337. This was done to coincide with Bacchic festivals so that all Roman

Egypt taught immaculate conception, perfect spirit interpenetrating flesh, union between Mother Earth and Father Sun for fertility. Consequently Osiris, Horus, Buddha, Krishna, Mithra, Quexalcoatl (the god of Mexico, an offshoot of the Atlantean culture) were said to have been miraculously born of a virgin mother.

The gospel narrative is directly paralleled by many earlier religions. Krishna, though of royal descent, was born in a dungeon at a time when his foster father, Nanda, had come to pay taxes. The dungeon is miraculously illuminated. A prophet examining his star declares the babe to be divine. The fearful King orders the massacre of all male babies, whereupon Krishna is taken away to safety. The child later astonishes his teachers with his wisdom.

The slaughter of innocents derives from the stars which, disappearing at sunrise, provided the myth of a massacre from which the sun god escaped.

Mithra too was born in a cave, a suitably humble origin. He was wrapped in swaddling clothes. Invariably the ox and ass were present. These were highly prized by the ancients as sources of food, clothing and transportation. The first clay replicas of these animals created tremendous interest abroad. Surely such precious creatures had to be a special gift of the gods. They were the chief animals in the sacred procession of Isis. Taurus, the bull, is a main symbol of the Sun god, while the ass represents Typhon, the Winter-god, principle of darkness.

CHAPTER 6 - I AM UNFOLDMENT

Sculptures of the temple at Luxor tell the story of the maiden queen visited by Thoth, messenger of the gods. He announces she will bear a son. Then Kneph, the Holy Spirit and Hathor, the goddess of love, takes the queen's hands and holds the crux ansata, (later to be modified to the cross) symbol of life, to her mouth. She is thus impregnated. The scene ends with the adoration of the babe.

Sun worship involves astrological symbology in all ages, when the sun enters a cardinal sign, solstices and equinoxes are celebrated as

Isis, Ishtar and Mary are all represented as standing on a crescent moon with a twelve star crown on their heads. Each carries an infant god. In one French cathedral there is a statue of Isis and the Infant Horus which was sent from Egypt as a gift.

According to history, Nunc Dimittis was first

that before he died, his eyes had seen Buddha, the promised saviour.

The story of the youthful Jesus surprising the elders in the temple with his wisdom is similar to the tale of Horus, who had the scribes lost in wonder at his understanding. The temptation in the wilderness is a common myth, told before in the Rig Veda, where Samara is tempted by the Panis. Pan does the same with Jupiter.

Wine obviously flows just as freely at Christ-mass time as ever it did in honour of Bacchus. This adaptation is from the cult of Dionysus, Sun-god and maker of wine. The festival of Dionysus falls on Epiphany, the day of the miracle. Dionysus symbolizes that force in Nature which transmutes sap, or water, to wine. At his festival, three empty flacons were placed in his chapel and the door was sealed. The next day, they were miraculously found filled with wine.

SUN WORSHIP

Walking on water is an attribute of both Poseidon and Dionysus. The feeding of the five thousand has similar origins. The twelve apostles who accompany the Sun-god (Son-God) have counterparts in the twelve signs of the Zodiac.

Jesus' triumphant entry into Jerusalem on an ass is symbolic of the sun entering the sign of Cancer when at its greatest height in the sky. Judas was originally portrayed as the twelfth zodiacal sign, Pisces, a sign whose influence is supposed to tempt weak characters to treachery.

There is obvious weakness in the current Christian version of the events leading up to the crucifixion. The Messiah predicted his own death and outlined many preliminary details. Yet Judas arranged for secret betrayal, which is inconsistent when obviously the priests could have arrested Jesus at any time without the need of inside help.

Long before the Christian Era, the Jews, adopting former Atlantean custom, chose twelve missionaries to travel to all foreign towns with Jewish colonies to teach exiled Jews and collect tributes. Similar practices exist today. These twelve selected rabbis produced a lengthy document called The Teaching of the Twelve Apostles. The first six chapters are obviously pre-Christian in thought. Then comes a portion very similar to the Sermon on the Mount, but actually taken from the Talmud. For example,

“Bless them that curse you, and pray for your enemies, and fast for them that persecute you; for what reward have ye if ye love them that love you? Do not the Gentiles also the same? But love ye them that hate you and ye shall have no enemy. Abstain from the fleshly and worldly lusts. If anyone give thee a blow on the right cheek, turn to him the other also, and thou shalt be perfect; if anyone compel thee to go one mile, go with him twain; if anyone take thy cloak give him thy coat also; if anyone take from thee what is thine, ask it not back, for indeed thou canst not. To everyone that asketh thee give, and ask not back.”

The nimbus or aura of the Sun-god was portrayed in Egypt by a crown of thorns. In the Eastern Orthodox religion the festival of light is celebrated by a crown of lighted candles. The crown symbolizes the sacrifice undergone for the good of mankind. The Crown of Life is the reward for self dedication and conquest of darkness.

CHAPTER 6 - I AM UNFOLDMENT

SUN WORSHIP

In Atlantis the seamless white robe (such as Jesus supposedly wore) was the garment of righteousness, representing a purified aura. It was again worn by Osiris, representative of Ra. The bitter cup, or drink of gall, represents the bitter struggle to conquer the lusts of the flesh. It appears again in Revelation where the Word, or book of God, is described as sweet, but digesting and applying this Word is less appealing to the lower appetite.

Easter, the festival of the vernal equinox is the oldest celebration of all. With approach of seeding time, due respect to the Sun-god is necessary. Water, too, receives its tribute. Rivers like the Nile and Ganges are still considered sacred. A forty day fast, seclusion and deep spiritual searching necessarily precedes the festivities. Easter also represents the entrance of Osiris into the moon, which symbolizes Isis.

Cardinal points (north, south, east and west) and cardinal virtues (prudence, justice, fortitude and temperance) are of ancient origin from the word cardo, or hinge — that on which something turns or depends.

The eucharist of bread or wafers and wine was used in ancient Egypt to commemorate the resurrection of Osiris. It was also used in the rites of Mithra, and in both Peru and Mexico, thus clearly indicating Atlantean origins. The Peruvian ritual cautioned celebrants about taking the sacrament to one's own damnation unless the heart was pure and single-minded.

The Lord's Prayer is very similar to King David's Prayer:

Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: for all that is in heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom. O Lord, and thou are exalted as head above all."

1 Chronicles 29:11

This is similar to an even older Chaldaic version:

CHAPTER 6 - I AM UNFOLDMENT

SUN WORSHIP

“O God, be Thy name magnified and hallowed in the world which Thou hast created...cause Thy Kingdom to come, let redemption flourish, and let the Messiah come speedily.”

All truth is projected from the Central Magnetic Hub, or Central Universal Sun. It should matter little to the spiritual devotee that much of the doctrine of the gospel is derived from allegorical sources. All is divinely inspired. Super-ego interprets the one great Truth. Never make the mistake of throwing out the baby with the placenta.

The Council begun at Nicaea spent many decades consolidating ideas into a comprehensive package. Although much new material was added by the original Christians, no one was inclined to throw out very much either. The final arrangement of the New Testament was decided in A.D. 400. Before any writing was accepted it had to agree with party line traditions.

Meanwhile the churches, following the old political pattern of the city states, had bishops in charge of local affairs. Each bishop had his own staff of priests and deacons. The former advised, preached, and administered the sacraments. The latter helped the poor and administered money matters. Missionary work continued unceasingly. As new churches were built, a priest was put in charge of the new parish. He was responsible to the presiding bishop. Thus some of the bishops in large metropolitan centres became very powerful. Rome was the most powerful centre of all.

In 445 A.D. the Bishop of Rome was able to persuade the Emperor Valentinian III to issue an edict ordering all churches to obey the Church of Rome. Later Pope Gelasius declared,

“The world is ruled by two. The sacred authority of the pontiffs and the royal power. Of these the importance of the priests is so much greater, as even for kings of men they will have to give an account in the divine judgement.”

The idea of a supreme Roman authority sparked centuries of bloody battle. Royal, priestly and common heads rolled before the idea was fully realized. It echoes today in the struggle between Earth's two great super-powers, though even I AM hard pressed to determine which power is more inclined to live by the word and which by the Spirit of Christianity.

CHAPTER 6 - I AM UNFOLDMENT

THE PROMISED LAND

My interest lies in observing which system nurtures the maximum opportunity for individual spiritual growth. How will the harvest tally manifest? Both super-powers are doing quite well in this respect. The sheep and the goats are clearly separating. Indeed this process which began at the very dawn of human history is almost complete.

Once the many strands of truth were polarized into the firm concept of Christianity, the sunburst principle came into effect almost immediately. By the year 600 A.D. Christianity was split into five sections, still officially united but hardly uniform in their practices.

Complex political, national and cultural differences caused the withdrawal of the patriarchates of Armenia, Persia, Alexandria, and Antioch. During this time large numbers of Christians converted to Islam.

The separation of the Eastern and Western parts of the Christian Church extended over centuries, until finally the Orthodox Church of the East and the Catholic Church of the West became two unconnected institutions.

The Orthodox Church is usually quite closely connected with civil authorities. Services are given in the working language of the people. Laymen are often members of the clergy. Missionary work today is negligible, though at one time the Russian Church had government sponsorship to increase its membership within the vast Russian Empire.

Contrary to popular opinion, about fifty million I AM devotees flourish today in the Soviet Union. I AM coming!

The Promised Land

However, one predominant truth emerges. Clearly mankind has had word of My Promised Land since the beginning of his history. In every age I come back to rekindle the sacred flame in ever intensified degrees of liminality, to establish the new curriculum.

Once the higher frequency God-vibe had been liberated on Earth through the person of My Son, The Messiah, it was fanned around the world by the Heavenly Host. It would override all lesser concepts and establish a new, more mature relationship between man and I AM.

CHAPTER 6 - I AM UNFOLDMENT

THE PROMISED LAND

Jesus Christ was initially a dual entity: one human, one Divine. The mortal Jesus lived and died a Jew. Like the ancient Hebrew teachers, he urged his flock to love God and to love their neighbours. Though The Anointed One spoke many familiar words, they were delivered with passionate new heights of emotional understanding. The Spirit quickened. The man was absorbed into the godhead prior to Jesus' ministry, setting an example for all to follow.

Islam defines this concept perfectly in Mohammed's final instruction:

“If it is Mohammed you worship, he is dead. If it is Allah you worship, He lives forever.”

Jesus left no writings of his own. His first followers carried out the normal duties of their Jewish faith. As new sects were frequently being added to Judaism, the initial impact of the new teachings was quite limited.

The wealthier Jews were of a race of great merchants. They had already established trade routes in many centres of the Roman Empire. Commercial travellers and religious pilgrims coming to Jerusalem were often multilingual. Most spoke Greek, the language of culture and commerce throughout the Roman Empire. The native Jews distrusted foreigners and were very close-minded towards non-Jews, other than in business dealings. The disciples, mostly simple men, were divided on the subject of whether or not non-Jews were acceptable in the new faith.

Though of Roman citizenship, Paul, a tentmaker, was a Jew with a lifelong record of ardent dedication to his beliefs. He had lived the former curriculum to its fullest intensity. Thus he was able to accept the new when it hit him like a streak of lightning. Subsequently Paul made no secret of the fact that it was Christ within, acting through his physical instrument, that gave him power.

Paul opposed the disciples' viewpoint that Gentiles could only become second class Christians. Although many Gentiles had been baptized, they were still not considered clean enough to eat with Jewish Christians. The split widened — Paul's Spirit was adamant. The vibe scolded Peter in public, reminding him that it was the Spirit of the law that counted, not the labels.

Paul's active inspiration thus established Christianity as a worldwide religion, “Catholic”, rather than just another Jewish Sect. He proclaimed Christianity the rebirth principle for all Nations, a Universal Church, Paul said:

Yes, if it is Mohammed you worship he is dead.

The old has passed away. Behold the new is come. The curriculum of the New Age, with new standards of spiritual excellence, is established.

Earth Era.

Much preparation took place between My First and Second Comings. Ever increasing spiritual momentum in the last century, together with the fulfilment of many prophecies, is evident to those who watch and pray.

Many chosen individuals were set in place. These emissaries, robed in flesh, had many diverse roles to play. Some wrote (Tolstoy), some uncovered new philosophies, (Karl Marx), some explored the nature of man (Freud).

Others formed breakaway groups according to direct revelation. Among the best known of these were Joseph Smith, William Booth, Ali Mohammed of Shiraz, Mirza Hasayn Ali, Charles Taze Russell, Mary Baker Eddy, Ogamasama, Walter Russell.

Some were chosen to develop new art forms, particularly music. This paved the way for the advent of Universal thought in simple songs. Even the resonant frequencies of this music holds a message, awakening, reflecting, evoking the inner man.

THE UNFOLDMENT NEARS COMPLETION

The incoming tide swelled and ebbed, filling many vacant mind crevices, washing out fixed ideas, depositing new. Although leadership candidates particularly the Asian gurus, filled a mandate and left a fresh perspective in their wake, matrices have necessarily been made and broken with great rapidity.

What took over ten decades to implant, then purify, in former ages, can now be accomplished in a few years or even months. When a goal has been accomplished the Heavenly Host acts swiftly to stamp out any traces of the old Atlantean Priesthood syndrome. Shortly before the downfall of the Atlantean culture, worshippers were lured by sensational displays in order to promote a particular sect. Then, rather than the mortal being absorbed by Spirit, intellect used spiritual powers to gain its own ends. Levitation was an example of this misappropriation of Spirit.

Speaking very generally, the faintly superior attitude of the advocates of eastern thought sometimes leads to a less than ideal state of spiritual humility. This allows Super-ego appropriation of spiritual gifts, which in turn gives rise to false gods.

Although many were chosen, Spirit's primary goal was to move over the face of the Earth, stirring the hearts of common people everywhere. To this end, the popular introduction of mind-expanding chemicals which helped Hindu sages and many great nineteenth century thinkers was invaluable. It succeeded in halting the basic headstrong ego drive which had pushed the light-skinned races to the top of the acquisition ladder, before it pushed them over the ladder of excessive physical desire.

Drugs, when tested gently, opened the door to a strange new concept of reality. They promoted a whole new fundamental level of functioning among Earth's younger generations. It was a sign of the times. They gave young people a glimpse of the Cosmic viewpoint, an awareness of the togetherness of all things.

However, once again there were cases of fools rushing in where angels fear to tread. Heavy users of mind-expanding drugs, unable to function at the level of attainment they had glimpsed were soon burned out. It is written "as ye understand the law so shall ye be judged". Man dare not make himself subject to higher law until he is prepared to accept the consequences.

Once enlightened, the spirit knows no rest until the New Age curriculum is manifest. Pioneers, such as Hendrix and Joplin had not arrived at their level of emotional understanding by their own inner resources. Cognitive consistency between esoteric and exoteric values was missing. Lacking integration, they were ripped apart, consumed in mind and body like a flaming torch dipped in gasoline.

Moderate experiments with pot and LSD, followed through with applications of the spiritual principles invoked, facilitated the initial the initial merger of body and spirit. This application prompted underground connections among youths of goodwill, regardless of their social, ideological, economic or national ties.

Parental pressure and Super-ego managed to “reclaim” a few of the “juvenile delinquents” of the 1950-60’s. Poor initial motivation, seeking sensation rather than enlightenment, caused guilt reactions which successfully blocked memories of My light streaming through the open mind. Well-motivated youths often converted parents.

This, together with the Baby Boom and Global Village brought new generations of vagabond searchers into being. Their like had never before been seen on the face of the Earth. At last youth had the opportunity to be free of the territorial, moral, and competitive attitudes of its forefathers. This social phenomenon rocked the status quo in many staid establishments.

My Chancellor Charles, returning from a reconnaissance trip across Europe, reported with great satisfaction: “Youth knows instinctively that the end of time is near. There is no place to hide from truth. They either break down, unable to cope with the enormity of their knowledge, which leads to high rates of suicide and vandalism, or else they ride the tide. It is because of this awareness that they smoke rather than in reverse.

“The great Spirit manifests. Older tourists look at places and things. Younger tourists lock minds. Subliminal spiritual influence bridges all language and ethnic barriers. We speak as fellow Earthlings.

“Youth is willing to give and take ideas. Christ, the New Age, alternative systems, true morality, and the like are discussed outrightly.

“Bad vibes or good vibes — that is the common measure of a man, regardless of his stature of origin. It’s the charisma that counts. Many of those we meet seem untainted by thoughts of self-righteousness or threat. They are willing to share what little they have — food, shelter, clothing, caresses, ideas. They respect a superior idea once it is understood, and try to incorporate this into their own way of being regardless of whether or not it fits into like or dislike categories.

“In this milieu, truth spreads by word of mouth like wildfire, reducing error to ashes in its wake. No one argues irrelevant details. The Spirit is all that matters. The words of a song might be nearly incoherent, but everyone seems to get the message. The subculture versus the establishment reinforces this phenomenon by peer group perception feedback...”

The Word Divided

Once again mankind is divided into sheep and goats. But starting from the 1950's, the division was along completely different lines. The generation gap split nations clean down the middle, setting off traditional, social and ideological schisms among the young. New mind links were established, ancient frontiers fell.

Make no mistake — the evangelical cry of “Onward Christian Soldiers”, “I am a sinner”, “Hallelujah” and the name of Jehovah are mighty powerful precepts. I hear all. Nothing would please Me more than to see the Saints come marching in en masse. But we don't run charter flights to heaven. FIRST CLASS ONLY!

The story of Paul's conversion is your best insurance. Some I grow upon, others I creep up on like a thief in the night, others I sock it to like a flash of lightning. As long as J.C.'s curriculum is covered down to the last jot and tittle, and equal emphasis is placed on all the commandments, My sheep in the fold can rest easy.

For these are the times when each individual, each group, each generation, thought-spirals between its programmed mortal point of view and My Point of View, thus adding powerful impetus to the dynamic tension of The Play.

The New Earth Era

Somewhere midway between the extremes of old and new thought, and happily so, are those who subscribe to New Age philosophies. These too circle the globe. New Agers are forward-looking people from all races, creeds and age brackets. All are young in heart. Each group knows it is under Divine Guidance and tries to bend the way Spirit blows.

The great majority of these people have abandoned former life-styles to form progressive communities under theocratic government. They are in the world but not of the world. Many have been entrusted with the unfoldment of a special microdot of marvellous portent. This is then nourished by others while the originators move on into other growth cycles necessary for the final meeting with Mind. The Findhorn group is a fine example of this.

There is a world-wide network of cosmic contactees, attuned to higher beings from more evolved planes of reality. Like men of old, these people look to the sky, to the Central Sun and to the prevailing Ray for guidance. They are not disappointed.

At the present time all serious spiritual seekers have a common focus. They know that the promised land is both a mental and physical paradise which will descend out of heaven making all things new. They are poised in anticipation, aware that the intervention for which mankind has earnestly prayed for centuries is nigh.

Recognition is fast dawning in all men on the planet that man's ways, man's solutions and man's form of government are just not working.

My way is the way of peace, prosperity, justice and flow. A wise father waits patiently while his children learn the way. Adolescence thinks it knows better. Free recognition of the father's precepts can only come with maturity, and a little knocking around in the harsh school of life-experience.

The Denouement

If any man have an ear let him hear.

Having warned of false gods, it is wise to state My case clearly in simple terms that all can understand. For this reason The Word must precede. The Word must show the way, that each may consider this matter privately, according to the urging of his own heart. There is room enough and role enough for all.
